THEIR DREAMS CAME TOO TRUE

DETROIT (AP)—When Jim and Betty MacFarlane were married in August, 1954, they both said they wanted a large family.
Twin boys, Christopher and Kimberly, arrived May 13, 1955.
Triplets, two girls and a boy, arrived Monday night.

Clause-by-Clause Study Starts on Gas Loan Bill

Two More Closure Motions
Expected in Bitter Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons early today cleared the government's controversial gas pipeline legislation through the second stage of its hotly-contested passage in a closure-marked sitting lasting 10½ hours.

A 163-to-65 vote gave second reading—approval in principle—to the bill to lend up to $80,000,000 to Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. for construction this year of the Prairie leg of its $375,000,000 Alberta-Montreal line.

Shortly before, a closure motion applied by the government for the second time in a week had brought four days of debate to a close at 1:10 a.m.

Almost overshadowing those developments, however, was a CCF member's challenge of the vote of Carl Nickle (PC-Calgary South) supporting the bill, on the grounds Mr. Nickle had "a direct pecuniary interest" in the pipeline.

He asked that the committee on privileges and elections investigate his position in order than any remaining doubts as to his integrity and personal financial interest in the legislation "may be cleared away."

Commons Speaker Beaudoin said no doubt the committee chairman would take note of Mr. Nickle's request so that whatever arrangements necessary for the inquiry would be made.

Schweitzer's Hospital 'Filthy' Says Pastor

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—A Presbyterian minister has charged that the African hospital of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, Nobel Prize winner, is "filthy" and that "white supremacy" is practiced there.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Behrenberg, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Metuchen, said Tuesday the hospital in Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa, is "filthy beyond description" and "a color line is practiced there which is more severe than anything found in Alabama."

The minister, whose congregation numbers about 1,600, told a luncheon meeting of the Perth Amboy Kiwanis Club that Dr. Schweitzer in his thinking "is more a Hindu-Buddhist than Christian in respect to his extreme adherence to the doctrine of reverence to life."

As a result of Dr. Schweitzer's respect for life, the pastor said, "nothing is killed in the hospital area including insects, animals which deposit their filth everywhere including the operating room and animals with serious infection that mingle with the all-white staff and the patients."

ONE WEEK VISIT

Dr. Behrenberg, who said he spent one week at the hospital last summer, said the "next village five minutes away from the hospital is neater and cleaner than the hospital compound."

He quoted Dr. Schweitzer as saying his hospital has to be primitive, otherwise the natives wouldn't come to him.

The minister said this is false because there are nearby missionary hospitals operated on democratic principles with strict standards of cleanliness and sanitation. He denied these hospitals are heavily used by the natives.

3 Children Die in Fire

HAZELTON, B.C. (CP)—Three Indian children were burned to death at an Indian reserve in this remote British Columbia community late Tuesday night.

Dead are Judy, Peggy and Kelly Dances. RCMP at Hazelton, about 500 miles north of Vancouver, said the children were aged 5, 7 and 9.

The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dances, were traveling by train to Prince Rupert, 120 miles southwest, to take jobs in a cannery. They returned here today.

A Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were looking after the Dances children while their parents were away.

Cause of the fire was not known.

Eaton Remanded

LANGLEY, B.C. (CP)—Gerard Eaton, 51, charged with murder in the slaying of eight-year-old Carolynne Moore, was remanded until May 30 when he made a three-minute appearance in court here today.

$60,000 Fine Imposed on Wire Firms

TORONTO (AP)—The Supreme Court of Ontario levied fines totaling $60,000 today against six wire fence companies convicted of running a combine for 18 years.

The fines were the maximum permitted under the old criminal code which was the basis of prosecution.

Fines of $10,000 were levied against the Dominion Steel and Coal Company, and its subsidiary, Canadian Steel Corporation. The Steel Company of Canada and its subsidiary, Frost Steel and Wire Company, and two smaller firms, Lundy Fence Company and the New Brunswick Wire Fence Company.

The companies were accused of operating the combine between January, 1933, and December, 1951.

Tory Chief Predicts CCF Victory in Sask.

SASKATOON, Sask. (CP)—Progressive Conservative leader Alvin Hamilton of Saskatchewan said Tuesday night he expects the CCF government to be returned to power in the June 20 provincial elections.

Mr. Hamilton said in a radio address that "no party in the opposition has earned the right to form a government in Saskatchewan."

Special Police Guard Duke From Cypriot Death Plot

QUITS MOLLET

Pierre Mendes-France, deputy premier and minister of state without portfolio, resigned to-night from the French cabinet. A Radical Socialist and former premier, Mendes-France has long been at odds with Premier Guy Mollet, a Socialist, on the government's policy for coping with the rebellion in Algeria.

RCAF Pilots Missing in Jet Crash

BELLEVEILLE, Ont. (CP)—Two RCAF pilots were believed killed today when their T-33 jet trainer plummeted into the Bay of Quinte.

The RCAF said both occupants of the plane, based at Trenton station 12 miles west of Belleville, have been listed as missing.

Salvage crews attempting to raise the aircraft from the water have not recovered the bodies, a spokesman said.

One of the pilots, Lt. Ian Keith Gilhuly, 26, the son of Dr. L. K. Gilhuly of Ryhope, Eng., was identified as the trainer's pilot.

Price lived at the Trenton station with his wife, Mrs. Ruby Price of Vancouver and their three-year-old daughter.

The spokesman said the aircraft was reported to have plunged into the bay from about 4,000 or 5,000 feet.

Steam Engineers Rejoin IWA

Eight steam engineers and firemen belonging to International Union of Operating Engineers have voted to rejoin International Woodworkers of America after four years in the smaller union.

Steam plant employees of Moore-Whittington Ltd. took the vote Tuesday under government supervision. They will join Victoria local 1-118 IWA, their former union.

Engineers obtained separate certification during a woodworkers' strike in 1952, and the IWA has since campaigned for industry-wide membership in the woodworkers' union.

Three Dead In Kitimat Plane Crash

Victims' Bodies

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—Frogmen today recovered the bodies of three men killed in a plane crash Tuesday, while trying to save the life of a logger who fell out of a small boat near Kitimat, 450 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Dead are Pacific Western Airlines pilot Victor Deeks, 27, of Terrace; Angus L. Chalmers, 44, first aid attendant, of Kemano and Glasgow, Scotland; and Harold Cassey, 34, concrete worker, formerly of Kitimat.

The search still continued for the logger, Arthur Guthrie, one of three men who were swimming toward a logging camp at Eagle Bay, 15 miles south of Kitimat, after their 14-foot skiff capsized. The other two reached shore safely.

Police here said the Widgeon, which had also joined the hunt, landed near the police launch and may have taken the missing man aboard. The police launch last reported seeing the aircraft headed for Kitimat. It later joined the search for the Widgeon and sighted the wreck.

Age about 30-35 p.m.

WIRE BRIEFS

Plane Still Missing

WINNIPEG (CP)—The search for a missing Norseman aircraft which disappeared in the Arctic last Saturday with one man aboard was hampered again by poor flying weather.

Pilot of the single-engine plane was C. C. Crossley, 60, veteran bush flier.

Eight Drown

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A dredge being towed on Galewhipped Lake Michigan in darkness early today snapped a line, wallowed in 10-foot waves and plunged to the bottom "in less than a minute."

Eight of 18 men aboard the construction dredge perished in the cold, choppy waters.

Quebeckers Shiver In 52-Degree Plunge

MONTREAL (BUP)—The mercury almost fell out of the bottom of thermometers in parts of eastern Canada today after a short-lived heat wave.

One of the biggest changes was reported at Val d'Or, in northwestern Quebec. The temperature reached 71 degrees there Tuesday. Today's forecast was 19 degrees and the possibility of snow.

Armed Bodyguards Assigned to Eden

LONDON (UP)—Three plainclothesmen of Scotland Yard's secret special branch have taken over from the Duke of Edinburgh's regular bodyguard to protect him against a rumored assassination plot by the Cypriot underground, it was learned today.

ALL CYPRIOTS MUST REGISTER

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—Britain's Cyprus government today ordered all Cypriots in 73 mountain villages to register with the authorities in a security measure due eventually to affect the Mediterranean island's entire population.

An official statement said the compulsory registration was for the immediate purpose of issuing identification cards for the holders to use in security checks and searches, but added that this initial registration was the first step toward similar registration of the island's entire population.

CHURCH INVASION

Six-Car Train
To Bring 400
From Cowichan

Lake Cowichan's first passenger train in 30 years will come to Victoria Sunday with 400 passengers aboard.

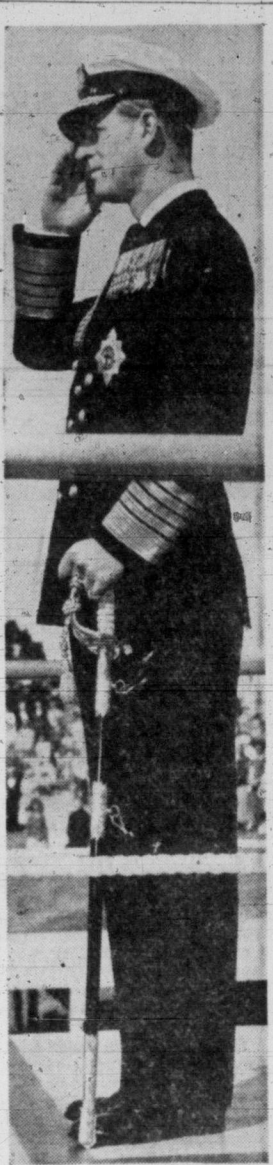

The group will include the combined choir, Sunday schools, and members of the three Anglican churches that comprise the Cowichan Lake Mission. Purpose of their trip will be to attend the ordination in Christ Church Cathedral at 11 a.m. of their deacon, William John Lunny, as a priest.

Mr. Lunny, deacon in charge of the mission for the past year, is 24, was born in Vancouver, and attended King George High School. After graduation from the University of B.C. he read theology at Oriel College, Oxford.

The six-car train, largest passenger train put together on the Island for some years, will leave Lake Cowichan at 7:30 a.m. daylight time, and arrive in Victoria at 10:15 a.m. It will leave Victoria at 4 p.m., and reach Lake Cowichan at 6:45 p.m.

E & N Railway had to bring passenger cars from the mainland to accommodate the large crowd. The railroad runs a regular freight service as far as Honeycomb Bay, on the south shore of Cowichan Lake.

The special branch guards were nearby. The usual police force also was on duty at the castle.

Buddhists Mark 2,500th Anniversary

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters)—More than 150,000,000 Buddhists watched a full moon drift over Asia tonight, signalling for them the 2,500th anniversary of the founding of their religion.

As the moon rose, robed clerics raised conch shells to their lips in temples across the Buddhist world from New Delhi to Peking and blew an eerie note to signal the start of monks' chanting.

The temple observances, climaxing days of religious devotion, are in recognition of the moment 2,500 years ago that Buddha, a wealthy Nepalese prince who turned from his luxurious life to become an ascetic teacher of love and human kindness, died. His teachings became a religion which now rates numerically fifth among the world's great religions.

The London Cypriots are known to oppose extremist activities on Cyprus.

In Scotland, the Royal family went about their vacation regardless.

Today they travelled seven miles across Balmoral forest and had a sun-drenched picnic by Loch Muich, a lovely lake on the royal estate.

The special branch guards were nearby. The usual police force also was on duty at the castle.

Australia Considers Decimal Coins

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Australia is unofficially reported to be considering changing her British-style coinage currency to the decimal system.

Reports here indicate the matter may be discussed at the Commonwealth prime ministers conference in June in London.

Australia is said to have been greatly influenced by India's decision to introduce decimal coinage next April with the rupee divided into 100 units.

Coinage in Australia now is made up of two-shilling, shilling, six-penny and three-penny pieces, all silver, and the copper penny and half-penny.

Under a decimal system only the two-shilling coin, or florin, would remain, as it is one-tenth of one pound. New coins would have a value of one-tenth of a florin.

Paper currency, now in 10 shilling, £1, £5 and £10 notes, would not be affected. Notes of £100 and £1,000/pounds exist but normally are used only in inter-bank transactions.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O GOD we thank Thee today for appointed tasks, for problems unsolved, for the work that lies at our hands, and for the will and energy to do that work. And let us never forget that we do, not face this challenging life alone, that Thou art with us; that "now we see as through a glass darkly, but then face to face." Amen.

MILITARY HACKLES RISE AT OFFHAND REMARK

'Squirrel-Headed General' Puts Truman on Hot Seat

NAPLES, Italy (UP)—Former President Truman denied today that he himself had called the planner of the bloody Salerno landing in the Second World War a "squirrel-headed general."

American reporters traveling with Mr. Truman heard him make the remark during a visit to the famed battleground Tuesday.

The former president went to bed Tuesday night unaware that an offhand, sidewalk cafe remark had touched off a storm of reaction from Europe to the United States and left one British general seething with rage.

(In Washington the White House referred queries to the squirrels on the front lawn.)

The controversy was touched off innocently enough Tuesday after Mr. Truman had finished giving reporters a briefing on history. He was then asked whether the Salerno beachhead was an easy place to land.

The former president replied from his seat in a sidewalk cafe that both the Salerno and Anzio beachheads were extremely difficult. Asked who picked them, he said: "Oh, some squirrel-headed general."

LORD ALEXANDER
... squirrel-headed?

Wonder how them Cypriots w'd go about settlin' a pipeline argymint.

Guess this Gov'mint'll be known as 'th' Mortgage Gov'mint. Usin' four closures r' git its bizness finished.

Gittin' so now we ain't satisfied with jest good weather, it's gotta set a record.

Sir Oliver Leese, a lieutenant general who was in command of the British 8th Army at Salerno, said in London the Truman remarks were "utter nonsense" and that "the man is talking absolute nonsense."

"To land on the most obvious beaches would have been suicidal," he said. "Has not Truman heard of the surprise value in warfare?"

"We chose to land on beaches that would give us that element. Field Marshal Lord Alexander of Tunis was in charge of the operation. To call him 'squirrel-headed' is rubbish."

Mr. Truman was a senator at the time of the beachhead.

PRECEDENT-BREAKING AUDIENCE—Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Truman talk with Pope Pius XII after the former president had a 15-minute private audience with the Pontiff in Rome. The audience was precedent-breaking since the 80-year-old Pope normally does not receive visitors on Sunday.

French Raze 'Torture Death' Moslem Village

ALGIERS (Reuters)—French troops have razed a Moslem village for its inhabitants' part in the death by torture of 17 soldiers, according to reports reaching here.

Every building in Ouled Djerah, 30 miles southeast of Algiers, was reported destroyed as 3,000 French troops searched for four other soldiers missing after the ambush last Friday.

An unofficial report Tuesday night said one of the four men had been found but was in too exhausted a condition to talk. Bodies of the 17 soldiers—all young men from the Paris region who had been in Algeria less than three weeks—were found mutilated. Their deaths raised feeling against the insurgents to fever pitch here and in Paris.

Some reports here suggest the insurgents are holding the missing soldiers prisoner.

French troops killed about 30 insurgents in a clash with a large band six miles from Meulou in eastern Algeria.

Fighter aircraft intervened in another clash nine miles from Collo, on the coast west of Philippeville. Other clashes were reported in the Djidjelli area further west, and near Bordj Bou Arreridj in the Kabylie hills.

In western Algeria, eight people were injured, four seriously, by a grenade thrown into a bar in the town of Tlemcen.

In the Constantine department, three soldiers were killed and five wounded when a convoy was ambushed 50 miles west of Setif. The insurgents lost 17 killed. French military authorities reported.

Briton Bullish On B.C. Market

LONDON (CP)—British industrialist Miles Beavor left for Canada Tuesday night to drum up dollar sales of his companies' engineering products. Beavor will be in Vancouver Friday and later will visit Toronto and Ottawa. He described British Columbia as a "particularly promising" market.

TACOMA PUTS TEETH IN CURFEW

TACOMA (AP)—Pierce county commissioners Tuesday passed a curfew resolution making it unlawful for children 17 years old and under to be at large without supervision between 10:30 p.m. and 5:30 a.m.

The resolution, similar to one recently passed in Tacoma, also provides penalties for their parents or guardians for allowing them to be out during those hours.

Penalties assessed by juvenile court range upward to a fine of $100 or 30 days in the county jail for youngsters. Things are tougher for parents. On a first offence, fines run from $25 to $50 or 10 days in jail; $50 to $100 or 30 days in jail for the second offence, and on each subsequent offence, a fine of $100 to $250 or 90 days in jail.

Saturday Parade Ban Folds at First Test

City public works committee Tuesday lifted a ban on Saturday afternoon parades that it established only last February.

The committee decided to bar all parades, except for special occasions. However, in the first test of the action, it gave permission to the Shriners to hold a parade Aug. 4 in connection with their annual horse show. The route for horsemen, bands and drill teams will be from Pandora and Quadra to the downtown area, then to Royal Athletic Park.

Other traffic matters that provided most of the business for the committee, included approval of four "keep right" signs at the roundabout, and a 20-mile zone for a distance of 200 feet each side of the Sheldown intersection on Hillside.

It was pointed out that one of the main trouble spots to be studied by consultant traffic engineer D. Jackson Faust, was the intersection of Hillside and Pandora. Directors of the Medical Arts Building Association wrote council that unless improved pedestrian safety devices were installed, an accident is inevitable. Organization of Sunday traffic patrols by churches will be up to the churches, the committee decided. Capt. D. J. Proudfoot had been asked earlier to organize the church patrols but replied the job was one for the public works committee. Now the committee will write each of four churches located near Quadra and Pandora suggesting they get together on the patrol idea.

Public works committee considered new controls for city taxi firms which operate from street stands. As a step toward removing all such street operations eventually to off-street locations, it was suggested spaces now granted firms should be rented from the city at a rate equal to a year's meter operation.

Nehru Plays Peacemaker In Singapore Discussions

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India's Prime Minister Nehru today advised David Marshall, Singapore's chief minister, not to take any drastic step which might prejudice finding a solution to the problem of Singapore's future. It was understood here.

Marshall met the Indian prime minister at lunch after arriving from London, where talks between a Singapore mission seeking independence and the British government broke down last week. Marshall said he would tell Nehru the facts of the unsuccessful negotiations and leave it to him to decide what action to take at the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference next month in London. He also said there was a "slim chance" of the British colonial office reopening the independence talks. If they were not reopened, he would resign, he added.

... GAS

In turn challenged by Conservative leader Drew, with whom Mr. Nickle has consistently been at direct odds in the bitter pipeline fight. Social Credit leader Low and Davie Fulton (P.C. Kamloops) also criticized Mr. Knowles' action.

The CCF member eventually agreed not to press his motion to bring the challenge to a formal Commons vote. But, amid loud catcalls from Liberal and Conservative members, Mr. Knowles said Mr. Nickle "hasn't denied or answered the basic statement that I made."

Later, on a further procedural vote, Mr. Nickle was cheered and applauded by Social Credit and Liberal members. Mr. Knowles was greeted with boos. Mr. Knowles said Mr. Nickle is prevented from voting on the pipeline bill because of his pecuniary connection with a company planning to supply gas to Trans-Canada for movement through the proposed line.

Mr. Nickle had every right to speak on the issue, Mr. Knowles said. "I have had nothing to do with any efforts to prevent him from speaking."

MENTIONS 'CONTRACT'

"But the same rules make it quite clear that if one has a direct pecuniary interest, he should not vote on such a measure, and if he does vote the vote should be disallowed."

Mr. Knowles said Mr. Nickle is president, vice-president or a director of at least nine oil, gas or pipeline companies. He did not intend to name all of them, but he would mention that Mr. Nickle is a director of Bailey-Selburn Oil and Gas Ltd., which has a contract with Trans-Canada to supply it with gas from the Buffalo-Blindfold field in Alberta.

This contract, he added, "prior to the passing of this bill is just a piece of paper." But once the bill was passed and Trans-Canada put in position to start operations, "that piece of paper becomes a document worth a great deal in terms of dollars."

Mr. Knowles said he was sure Mr. Nickle would agree "this is the type of matter that we should approach very seriously." He quoted Mr. Nickle himself as saying in the Commons on Jan. 15, 1953:

"A member of parliament should be, like Caesar's wife, above suspicion."

POINTS TO RECORD

Replying, Mr. Nickle said: "May I state unequivocally that I have no share interest whatsoever in Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. and no shares whatsoever in any company which is a shareholder in Trans-Canada."

"I am quite prepared, and I would be most happy to submit a record in regard to any of the oil companies of which I happen to be a director to the appropriate committee of this House for its examination."

Mr. Nickle added:

"I have made arrangements to turn certain of my assets again to a foundation devoted to charitable work in my home province, an amount far greater than any possible return that could be received from any sale of the gas reserves of those companies of which I am a director."

SOUND ECONOMICS

He said he has opposed Trans-Canada as the pipeline-builder in the past. But he believed in sound economic planning and when it became apparent that Trans-Canada was the only company capable of building the line this year, he decided to support it.

In reaching this decision, he had also decided to dispose of shares he held in two companies that recently became shareholders in Trans-Canada. He said his financial relationships with oil companies existed prior to his becoming a member of Parliament.

Mr. Drew said he hoped Mr. Knowles' motion would not be supported by the Commons. He had "resented very strongly" Mr. Nickle's statements in the pipeline debate implying "to my colleagues" the suggestion of political expediency.

"But I defend his right to express his opinion." It would be most unwise and unfair if his right to vote should be dealt with arbitrarily on "a bald declaration" of this kind.

"DANGEROUS THING"

He suggested such a matter would be better dealt with by the House committee on privileges and elections.

Mr. Low said "it is a dangerous thing" to suggest that such a matter be resolved by a Commons vote "on the few facts we have available."

Mr. Fulton said he shares with Mr. Drew an "intense personal resentment" against Mr. Nickle's charges against the Conservatives. But "I do not agree that there are sound grounds for the motion."

Knowles Challenges Nickle's Right to Vote

(From Times News Services)

Stanley Knowles early today challenged the right of Progressive Conservative rebel Carl Nickle to vote on the government's natural gas pipeline legislation.

The CCF procedural expert from Winnipeg North Centre rose after the Commons gave approval in principle to the government plan to lend money to Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. for the Alberta-to-Montreal line.

He said Mr. Nickle is prevented from voting on the issue by House rules because of his pecuniary connection with a company planning to supply gas to Trans-Canada for movement through the proposed pipeline.

Mr. Nickle, in a voice choked with emotion, denied that personal gain has had any part in any stand he has taken in the Commons.

Conservative leader Drew with whom the member for Calgary South has been directly

Willing to Submit Record to House

"I'll be most happy to submit my record in this House or in any oil company of which I am a director to an appropriate committee of this House."

Mr. Knowles said Mr. Nickle had every right to speak as he wished on the issue. However, the rules made it quite clear that no member was entitled to vote on any question in which he had a direct pecuniary interest.

He said Mr. Nickle is a director of Bailey-Selburne Oil and Gas Ltd., which has a contract with Trans-Canada to supply it with gas from the Buffalo-Bindloss field in Alberta.

Speaker Rene Beaudin asked Mr. Knowles to withdraw his motion at this time.

Mr. Beaudin said the Commons is not going to decide immediately whether any member opposed in the big pipeline debate, immediately rose to defend Mr. Nickle's right to vote.

Mr. Nickle said that when he entered politics in 1951 he made a pledge to turn over for scholarships and charitable use in Alberta every dollar he earned as a member of Parliament.

He said a government department did not identify it—has a record that this has been done.

"Personal financial gain has had no part in any decision I have made in this House," he said.

Mr. Nickle said he states "unambiguously" that he owns no shares of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. or of any company which is a shareholder in Trans-Canada.

has a pecuniary interest in a measure.

"That can't be the procedure. It's impossible."

The Speaker said that Mr. Nickle's character and honor are at stake. The procedure should be to bring forward the issue on a motion which could be referred to the Commons committee on privileges and elections. The committee then could consider whether the member had a direct interest or not.

If the committee reported time to seek to disallow the that he had, then it would be After considerable argument member's vote.

on procedure, Mr. Knowles said he would abide by the Speaker's ruling that it was not a question the House could decide now.

Thatcher Criticizes Public Ownership

Ross Thatcher said Tuesday night the Saskatchewan CCF government's experience with crown companies shows that public ownership of the trans-Canada pipeline would mean higher costs to consumers for the line's natural gas.

The independent member for Moose Jaw-Lake Centre told the Commons that not one Saskatchewan crown corporation has operated at a profit for a period without special privileges or compulsion.

Mr. Thatcher, who bolted the CCF party last session, said this is the main reason he supports private ownership of the 2,000-mile pipeline from Alberta to Montreal. After 14 years in public office he was convinced public ownership should be employed only in special circumstances.

The stand he took is directly opposite to that of CCF Commons members, who have been urging that the $375,000,000 pipeline be built and operated under public ownership.

He said since the CCF took office in Saskatchewan in 1944 the government had established 19 crown corporations. Of that total, five had failed and the other 14 either received monopolistic privileges or remained in operation through government compulsion.

Saskatchewan's state ownership program "has been a tragic and costly fiasco." It had bogged down in a morass of bungling, red-tape, inefficiency, inefficiency and sheer incompetence.

Later, H. W. Herridge (CCF-Kootenay West) said he heard with interest Mr. Thatcher "expounding his medieval ideas."

"If he fought as hard for the people of Moose Jaw as he has fought the CCF since he deserted them, he would be a more valuable member," Mr. Herridge said.

Mr. Thatcher's speech was frequently interrupted by shouted interjections from his former

'Iceberg' Ekberg Melts At Tumultuous Wedding

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Hollywood's dazzling "Iceberg" Anita Ekberg and British matinee idol Anthony Steel, 36, were married Tuesday in a tumultuous civil ceremony in ancient Florence's city hall. He's the son of a British general.

Two hundred film fans burst through police guards to attend. A spade-bearing city councillor started the ceremony three times in the din, yelled a threat to cancel the wedding, and finally pronounced the couple man and wife only after checking to confirm that they and the witnesses heard the rites.

At one point, plainclothesmen livened things up by plowing through the crowd toward a suspected pickpocket. He got away.

ONE BARE SHOULDER—The shapely bride, 24, didn't equal the night when her strapless dress burst as she entered a chic London night club. Anita's long blonde hair was uncovered. Her white organza dress left the right shoulder entirely bare and dipped low. She wore toeless sandals.

Understandably, it took 10 policemen to get her out. Steel slipped a platinum ring on his bride's finger, gave her a big kiss after the ceremony and then—being a practical young man—wiped her forehead with his handkerchief. She was close to fainting.

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP's famed musical ride will be performed in four Canadian and three United States cities between Aug. 13 and Dec. 1, the RCMP announced Tuesday.

The unique precision drill of men and horses will be given 64 performances during the 3½-month period. There will be 49 days between appearances for travel and rest. All rides are in the East. This year's ride is the first since 1953 when one was trained for performances at Queen Elizabeth's Coronation ceremonies in London. The 1953 ride was the first ever performed before a reigning monarch.

Mr. Pickersgill was "shocked" that a member of the bar would resort to such political tactics.

Mr. Brewin was reported Monday as saying that the "nephew of the prime minister of one of the proudest new members of the Commonwealth" was deported from Canada because of his racial origin. He declined to give details.

However, immigration officials here said today that he apparently was referring to Mr. Chaudhri son of a Pakistani provincial official, who came to Canada in 1954 at the time Mohammed Ali was prime minister of Pakistan.

Mr. Pickersgill told the Commons that the Pakistani was admitted to Canada as a student but failed his course, coming last in a large class. He was ordered deported when he decided to stay on in Canada as a landed immigrant.

Columbia River Control To Get U.S., Canada Study

First Two-Nation Parley Since 1909 To Study International Waters

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canadian-United States study of control of waters lying across the international boundary was announced today.

It will be the first general examination of this subject by the two governments in nearly 50 years. The proposal was announced simultaneously here and in Washington.

No details as to time and place of meeting and make-up of the conferring groups were immediately available.

The last major conference on these problems brought into existence the boundary waters treaty of 1909 and the international joint commission which administers it. The operation has been an outstanding success.

MANY PROBLEMS

Today's announcement says, however, that possible development of a number of international streams such as the St. John, Columbia and Yukon rivers and their basins require the solution of "various complicated legal, economic and engineering questions."

The announcement said: "In agreeing to examine the matter of waters which cross the boundary, the two governments realize that there may be no easy or quick answer to the problems which are arising today in such areas, and that the studies may reveal that the boundary waters treaty of 1909 is sufficiently broad to meet present problems."

"The two governments believe, however, that a full and confidential exchange of views may contribute to the resolution of these problems, and it is in this spirit that the discussions have been agreed to."

A National Election?

MR. ST. LAURENT HAS broken a long silence to assure the nation that he will not call a general election until Parliament has passed upon the gas pipeline scheme and on the new financial arrangements between the Federal and Provincial Governments.

The Prime Minister has left himself plenty of elbow room. By the early days of June the pipeline debate will be concluded, if necessary by closure. The government's fiscal concessions to the provinces known as Plan C should be approved by Parliament with a brief debate, since no party is prepared to oppose them.

Thus the two items of business mentioned by Mr. St. Laurent should be out of the way before mid-summer. An autumn session could deal with any other items left in abeyance when the present session is adjourned.

The government is free, under Mr. St. Laurent's formula, to call an election before the year's end, if it so desires. As Mr. Grant Dexter, dean of the Ottawa press corps, writes in the Winnipeg Free Press, there are powerful arguments in favor of a poll before next spring.

The first argument, as Mr. Dexter says, is Mr. St. Laurent himself, the chief political asset of the Liberal party. He will be 75 years old next February 1. "At the present time," Mr. Dexter reports, "he appears to be strong and healthy for his years. But the Liberals are keenly aware that health is a chancy factor at this age, especially when a man must carry a prime minister's responsibilities. The advantages of a fall election here are obvious."

Less obvious but perhaps more important is the current economic state of the nation. It is prosperous in the extreme and already encountering serious inflationary strains which the government is attempting to curb by such fiscal measures as higher interest rates. Despite these safeguards, inflation is likely to become increasingly dangerous before spring.

"Under these circumstances," Mr. Dexter adds, "tax reductions are ruled out as inflationary and dangerous. But, it is asked, dare a government present a budget next spring reporting a surplus of, say $300 millions, denying the people any reduction in taxation and estimating a 1957-58 surplus of say, $500 millions? Liberals regard this as economic wisdom but political lunacy. A fall election would avoid this difficulty entirely."

That is to say, the government would seek a renewal of its mandate before it had to face the hard choice between a sound anti-inflationary budget and a popular but quite unjustified tax cut.

Probably the government has not yet made up its mind on the election date and will be governed by events in Parliament and by its judgment of the public's mood. An election before Christmas, however, evidently cannot be ruled out.

Democratic Radical

AS HE BEGAN HIS CAMPAIGN for the Democratic nomination, Mr. Adlai Stevenson said that the times called for moderation. He proposed to be a moderate candidate, like President Eisenhower, and this approach seemed to suit the Democratic Party.

But lately, as the New York Times tells us, some of the most powerful Democratic leaders have had second thoughts.

So long as Mr. Eisenhower seemed unlikely to run, a moderate candidate like Mr. Stevenson could be expected to do well against any other Republican. Now that the President is running as a moderate he can hardly be beaten by any other moderate, however able. Thus if it is to have even a fighting chance of victory, the opposition party must nominate a radical. So goes the argument in the smoke-filled Democratic bedrooms.

As Mr. Stevenson's prospects have been damaged in the primary elections the fortunes of Governor Harriman of New York apparently have been rising. He is a radical on the left wing of the New Deal and, moreover, a vigorous champion of desegregation.

Where Mr. Stevenson has urged caution and patience in the great racial issue, Mr. Harriman has proposed that the federal government refuse aid to the schools of southern states where the Supreme Court's desegregation decision has been resisted.

At first sight a foreigner might suppose that Mr. Harriman, quarreling with the solid Democratic South, would be an impossible candidate. His views on the Negro problem are calculated to produce another Dixiecrat revolt in the Democratic Party.

This danger Mr. Harriman's supporters are ready to face in the belief that they can appeal to millions of important Negro votes in the north, to the middle-western farmers on a policy of high prices and to the labor unions as the architects of the welfare state.

At any rate, the decisions of the Democratic convention, both on the candidate and on the party platform, have been thrown into complete doubt by the President's decision to run and by Mr. Stevenson's misfortunes.

A radical candidate may be nominated and a radical platform erected in a desperate attempt to meet the unequalled popularity of the President but his defeat (even with the obvious burden of Mr. Nixon's company) appears highly improbable.

The real danger in the strategy now being planned by the Democratic radicals, as The New York Times observes, is that the old racial issue will be fanned into new flame and its solution unnecessarily postponed.

General Pearkes Draws a Red Herring

GENERAL PEARKES, THE energetic Conservative member of Parliament for Esquimalt-Saanich, could have used some good ammunition in the Trans-Canada pipeline debate at Ottawa, but in the light of news dispatches he fumbled it badly.

For instance, he stressed the terrible wrong the Government was perpetrating in undertaking an $80-million loan to Trans-Canada. But he spoiled it all by arguing that his coastal constituents should get some benefit from it if their money was to be involved.

The implication is that no matter how iniquitous the Government's action is, it would be acceptable if the West Coast could share in the returns. Such an argument falls far short of statesmanship.

Still more illogical was General Pearkes' argument involving Government expenditures on old age pensions. No one will deny consideration to the many thousands of old age pensioners who must struggle to preserve a bare existence. They deserve our sympathy and such help as we can provide for them.

But to picture pensioners as being denied money which is whimsically being given to American plutocrats by the Canadian Government is to ignore all logic.

Good Show, Better Coming

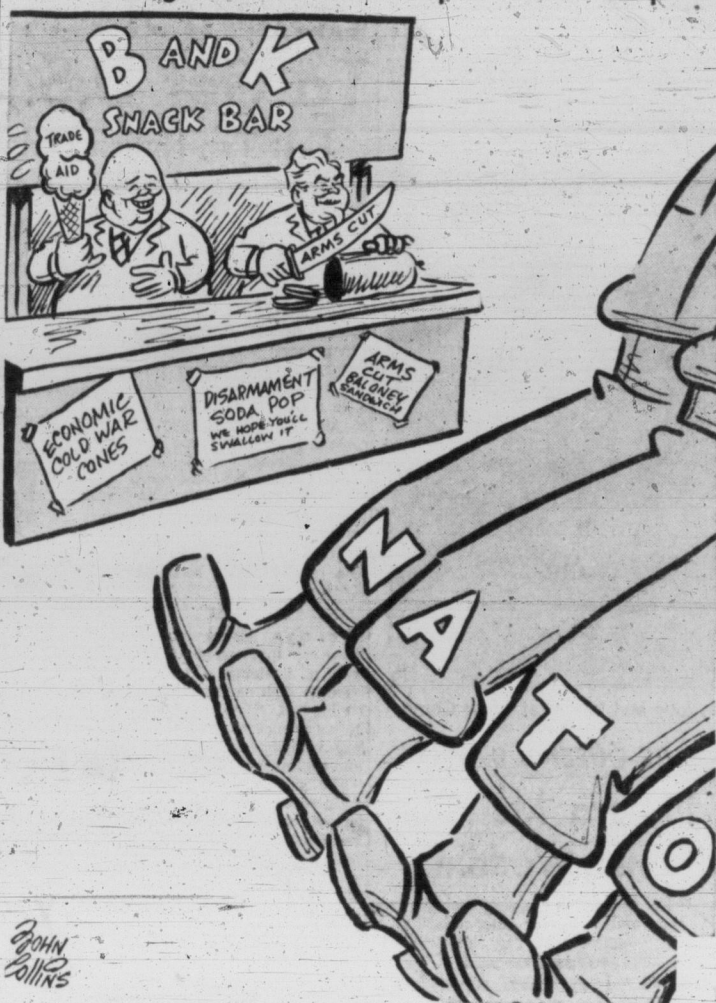

THOSE MEN AND WOMEN who contribute so much to the annual festivities of Victoria Day have received their thanks for an excellent celebration. The crowds which attended various events expressed the community's gratitude for more adequately than could any formal motion.

Having accepted the tribute of thousands, the same figures who have been predominant in organizing the fiesta in recent years look forward to something even better in 1957. Last weekend Victoria business firms showed what could be accomplished when they lent their energies and financial resources to the different events. Continued support from that source, coupled with the public enthusiasm engendered by success should make the organization and staging of next year's events even more efficient and spectacular.

That the public appreciates the work done for it, not only by the celebrations association and all its workers, but by the Indian groups who held their own festival, goes without saying. A splendid job has been done. Indications are that an even better one is in prospect.

Legal Cross-Examination of the Good Fairy

WHAT I don't like about good fairies is this: they are out to trap you. They have the minds of glibblers and tricky little shysters. The man who makes the wishes turns out to be much worse off than he ever was before. This is supposed to be a reflection on human thoughtlessness and greed, but actually it is a reflection on good fairies. They are dull-heeled little monsters, with all the malice of humans who manage to be powerful and smug at the same time. For real prizes, give me good fairies every time. No broad understanding and generosity. You know how very infantile and mean little boys (and little girls too) will try to trip up their alleged friends, and say in a smart way "I thought you said..." Good fairies are very like that too.

ACCORDINGLY, I have written a little fairy tale. It might not appeal to Hans Andersen, Lewis Carroll, Durrell, Kaye, and other grown-ups whose emotions are sometimes at war with a child's intellect. But to a cynical little kid like myself it is very soothing. Here it is: Once upon a time there was a lawyer.

FROM OTTAWA

Speeches, Rebuttals---And the Tulips Still Observe Closure

UNTIL he spoke yesterday, Prime Minister St. Laurent had been a quiet attentive figure in the gas pipeline debate.

Controversy swirled around him. The Opposition tried to goad him into statements. The Prime Minister seemed oblivious to the pressure. The tableau was memorable.

Mr. St. Laurent sits at the double desk he shares with Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe in the Commons. One hand cups his chin. An index finger gently strokes his moustache.

A visitor looks down from the gallery wondering "if he's tired, if the exhausting load of his position has sapped his strength, if age is beginning to tell."

One of his younger cabinet colleagues, dispels the suggestion. The Prime Minister's health is excellent, he explains. It is Mr. St. Laurent's way to let criticism flow, to listen to long speeches against his Government.

"He'll speak," the young cabinet colleague had predicted. "He'll speak, and he'll have something to say. I've seen him listen to a speech for three or four hours. Then I've seen him rise and tear it apart in 12 minutes, demolishing the argument."

In the stately Commons chamber at Ottawa one of the big dramas of Canadian public life is being played. There are few vacancies in Government or Opposition benches as the manoeuvres proceed, and it is a time of intricate manoeuvre.

Liberals United

Liberals forced seem united in support of Mr. Howe's pipeline plan. Describing the merits of the motion of his name and that of his leader, even when they are called in the routine procedure of a vote. And on the votes every member's stand is recorded individually.

A stranger catches the roll of sound swelling from the five banks of desks to the right of Mr. Speaker and looking around to his immediate left, where 34 more Liberals sit. The sound and the source are important. Party strength will carry the issue.

Added to it will be the backing of Social Crediters, joined in strange marriage on this issue with the Government they customarily denounce. With them, too, stand independents, rising in places at the foot of the bank of desks to Mr. Speaker's left.

If the wedding of Liberal and Social Credit for this particular piece of Canadian business seems unusual, it is no more surprising than the union of Conservatives and CCF for the occasion—although one prairie Tory has bolted and voted with the Government.

There is a certain tenseness in the atmosphere in the House. Sharp words fly between the two factions. The Conservatives, spectacularly successful in the filibuster against the Special Powers Act last year, are repeating their tactics of delay.

Mr. Drew rises in his place, a tall, commanding figure, prototype for those "Men of Distinction" advertisements, and raises objection on a point of order. Energetic Dave Fulton of Kamloops follows it up, bringing the benefits of a lawyer's mind and a lot of homework to his argument.

From the Government benches comes a groan of protest when the Kamloops member rises, a rumble of antagonism and shouts of "No, No."

Stanley Knowles, Winnipeg's CCF member who seems determined to be quoted in Hansard more often and at greater length than any other member of the House, adds his protests against the Government's action, cites his authorities in the delaying battle. He walks forward from his desk, an intense figure too old for his years but highly valued by his leader, Mr. Coldwell.

A little over a week ago four votes were taken, all on procedure, in one afternoon.

It is a time-consuming process. The division bells ring, clattering through the House of Commons. Members who may have been absent—though few were—file in. Whips return to report all who are able to vote are present. Mr. Speaker calls his sonorous "Order" and the process begins. Each member rises, the Prime Minister first, and his name is called. Where members have the same names the constituency is also cited. The Prime Minister is Mr. St. Laurent of Quebec East, his son, Mr. St. Laurent of Temiscouata.

In his back bench on the Liberal side, husky, big-faced Joseph Langelais listens critically as the clerk rolls out the name of his constituency—Berthier-Maskinongé-Delaunaudière—his smile of delight widening as the names are correctly pronounced.

The Government calls for action. The Opposition calls on parliamentary tricks to delay it. When the afternoon has passed with no business done—just votes

Not the Ronald Grant...

I have been the recipient of much comment relative to a recent news item in which "Saanich Councillor Ronald Grant" has been quoted as stating that "the Reeve Ash and others were doing their best to inject the philosophy of Liberalism into municipal government" and that "the Liberal Party has a good corps of officers and NCO's in Saanich ready to do battle."

May I bring attention to the fact that the undersigned is not a member of the present (1956) Saanich Council and therefore not to be confused with J. (James) Ronald Grant, barrister and present councillor.

May I also remind Councillor J. Ronald Grant that he, Reeve Ash and Councillor O'Neill firmly supported a statement to the effect that party politics had a place in municipal affairs. The injection of any party philosophy into municipal government can hardly be called anything but partisan.

My philosophy as a former councillor was and always will be that the Reeve and councillors sit as ordinary taxpayers with the distinct honor of representing ALL the people of their community, regardless of their politics, and for the purpose of guiding the affairs of the community honestly, efficiently and economically without any reference to party politics or personal aggrandizement.

DONALD M. GRANT, N.D.

Slow Boat...

"Bill" James, spokesman of the so-called National Federation of Labor Youth in Victoria Press May 18 and 19 objects to his group's being 'refused' a float in the parade.

Will Mr. James tell us how many actual members the NFLY has in Victoria? Is the NFLY registered as an organization federally or provincially? And, if Mr. James is the spokesman, who are the local officers?

Will the NFLY deny affiliation or connection with the (Communist) L.P.P. Party?

As the Victoria Celebrations Committee stated, these Communist and Communist front organizations are contrary to our way of life. One has only to study the Communist Pacific Tribune, the Canadian Tribune and the L.P.P. "National Affairs" monthly to see that these people are more partial to Russia and the Russian system than they are to Canada.

It is quite evident they are not happy in Canada and passage on a fast or slow boat to Russia should be the answer for them.

just because I idly tell him to shut up. "STOP scolding me in advance," said the good fairy, "and mend your manners." "Manners?" said the lawyer, in some surprise, "why a lawyer's manners are always impeccable. He learns this in court. In any event, we are not here to flatter each other with easy compliments, but to come to an agreement. For an agreement there must be a meeting of minds, and at such a meeting there must be an understanding of each other's minds. Are we agreed that you will abstain from low trickery and childish jokes?"

"Stop putting agreements into my mouth," said the good fairy, "and do try to understand how we do business in Fairyland." The lawyer's patience snapped with an almost audible twang. "Business?" he sneered in a thin falsetto scream, "why, you are utterly impossible to do business with at all. Get out."

He called for his clerk to show the good fairy the door. This, as it turned out, was a waste of breath. For one thing, the fairy had already vanished, as swiftly and mysteriously as a nice little estate. For another thing, she had performed a little magic on the clerk on her way in. She had changed him into a razor blade so that she could split a few hairs with him.

on points of order—the Liberals express a quiet jubilation. They have been under attack for invoking closure—the ending of debate. What better reason for such action, some of them asked privately, than that provided by an Opposition which refused to get on with the business, prejudiced its chance to debate and merely stalled?

Not all days pass that way. Last week Mr. Howe rose to make his case for Trans-Canada. There is a weathered toughness to him. His features are sharply defined. He looks more like a John Collins cartoon than he does like his photographs.

His speech is undramatic in delivery, an efficient, well-organized presentation of points marshaled with an engineer's precision.

Provincial Letters

Mr. Howe read letters from provincial leaders who want the pipeline and endorse his position. The Conservatives were reminded of a phrase made the week before by newspaperman Max Freedman, in an address to the Ottawa Canadian Club, and picked up by former Times columnist Elmore Philpot, on the "Frösling" of Mr. Drew.

Mr. Howe took exception to Opposition talk of "Texas buckaroos." That brought Mr. Drew to his feet saying his party had made no such reference and calling for withdrawal. Mr. Howe withdrew only to apologize a minute later to Mr. Speaker Beaudin for too hasty withdrawal. He read the phrase from a speech by Mr. John Diefenbaker.

Mr. Howe carried the day. His arguments, backed by letters, brought round applause from his followers, uncomfortable silence from the Opposition.

It was not a rousing speech, but it was effective. Still, in the back row an elderly Liberal rested a leonine head on his breast, sleeping quietly.

As the drama continued, Mr. Speaker performed with suave precision, claiming the attention and courtesy which is the right of his office and is doubly impressive because of his own assurance and authority.

In the public galleries groups of school children from eastern provinces—mainly Ontario—watched the proceedings. What it meant to them is conjectural. The young high school student from Windsor, in Ottawa on a Rotary sponsored trip, offered the sophisticated comment of adolescence: "Highly amusing, at times."

On the street the pipeline seems to be the main conversational topic, over shadowing complaints about the lateness of Ottawa's spring—so delayed that trees are only now coming into new leaf and the tulip festival has been postponed until the tulips bloom.

A budget speech in Britain's House of Parliament can literally go on for hours. Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan, during such a long speech, refreshes himself with water. A former holder of the office, Sir Winston Churchill, fortified himself with "an amber liquid."

Of the hundreds of thousands of words written about the Kelly-Rainier wedding, here's something that didn't achieve print. A London journal thought it would make a good feature to get their New York office to circulate her former boy friends to comment on the Grace Kelly they knew. Comments came in all right but the paper's lawyer wouldn't let them publish any of them.

Heading your way is the London revue of French origin, La Plume De Ma Tante, shortly to open on Broadway. If you get the chance, rush don't walk to the theatre where it's on. Best evening's entertainment you'll have had for years. Though French, there's not a nude in it just hilarious dead-pan comedy.

You can't beat the French for service. A couple we know who have two teenage youngsters left them behind when they went for a week's holiday in Paris. Friends regarded it as their second honeymoon and sent them off from London showered in confetti and rice. In their twin-bedded Paris hotel room they shook out what was left of the confetti from their clothes and spent the day seeing the sights of the town. When they returned they found the hotel had replaced the twin beds with a double bed.

Do you remember that delightful early book of Evelyn Waugh called "Scoop" about the dithering writer of a bird column who unexpectedly finds himself a war correspondent in the Abyssinian war? It's to be filmed.

Another early work of an established British writer is in film production. It is "The Spanish Gardener," by A. J. Cronin, that very effective story of a pompous British consul in Spain who tries to block his young son's friendship with their gardener. Dick Bogarde (last year's biggest British box-office draw) stars with Maureen Swanson. Unlike most of Britain's crop of starlets, this Maureen Swanson is someone I'd like to see of other people. It seems to get enthusiastic about. She'll be big stuff in a couple of years. You can glimpse her as a good-time girl in "A Town Like Alice."

May Synthesize Antitoxins

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Word comes from the laboratory at the University of California, Berkeley, directed by the great virologist, Dr. Wendell Stanley, that one of his men, Dr. Heinz Fraenkel-Conrat, has made a hybrid virus by crossing the protein and the nucleic acids taken from two different strains of tobacco mosaic virus.

When we remember that many viruses are so small that even with the very powerful electronic microscope they show as only tiny dots, it seems the more remarkable that already scientists know much about the chemistry of these dots. They have found that the important infectious part is in the nucleic acid segment. Now it appears that the harmless protein part, taken from a virulent disease-producing strain of virus, can be combined with the active nucleic acids part, taken from a harmless strain, to produce a non-virulent hybrid that will immunize and protect a person from infection without making him ill.

I think I mentioned in this column last year that Drs. Fraenkel-Conrat and Robley Williams took a virus apart into its two main components and then put them together again.

Some years ago, Dr. Linus Pauling, another chemical genius who works with proteins in his laboratory in Pasadena, showed that it may be possible some day to produce antitoxins in the test-tube by growing proteins against a sort of extremely minute "template," such as a machine uses when he wants to manufacture hundreds of pieces of metal with a certain shape.

CHEMISTS AT WORK

It is wonderful today, how chemists all over the world are building drugs to order to help the sick. They will take a chemical that has some curative powers—but too many toxic qualities. They will tear it down and rebuild it in various ways, trying always to get much more curative power with much less toxic or harmful tendencies.

Dr. Alvarez

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

I was reading the other day that at the great Sloan-Kettering Laboratories in New York City, they built a substance which, in mice, showed remarkable powers of restraining the growth of cancer cells. But, unfortunately, in men it does not work so well. But the fact that a substance has been found that works so well in mice means that probably before long the chemists will have rebuilt it in many ways and will have found one form which will work well in man.

Hopeful for persons who now have reason to fear cancer is a statement by my friend, Dr. Leonard Scheele, surgeon-general of the U.S. Public Health Service, that today cancer is being cured at more than three times the rate of a decade ago. Because of earlier diagnosis, better X-ray treatments and better operating persons who now go to a physician quickly when they have noted symptoms of cancer, have a 50-50 chance of getting well and staying well.

THE RISING COST OF HOSPITAL CARE

Recently, Dr. R. E. Brown, writing in the Journal of the American Hospital Association, expressed his regret, such as all of us physicians feel that the costs of hospital care

The average cost of a room has gone up from $9.39 to $21.76 a day. This is a climb four times as fast as that of most other costs. One great difficulty is that hospitals have had to more than double wages, and to cut four hours off the workweek. Also, the need for hospital employees that will give all the many new services that are now required in modern medical practice has gone up 34 per cent per patient.

Another very expensive factor is the fluctuation in the need for hospital beds. For instance: 61 hospitals in the Chicago area reported that the percentage of beds in the maternity units that were occupied ranged from 37 to 101 of the total beds available. Even when only a third of the beds were filled, the same large staff had to be kept on hand, and they all were being paid salaries.

Dr. Brown fears that unless something happens, for many years to come, hospital costs are going to keep increasing about 5 per cent annually.

HOME GARDEN

By JACK BEASTALL

Weevils Doing Harm To Pea, Bean Crops

The big question among gardeners this past week has been the scalloped edges on the leaves of early peas and beans.

This fancy edging is the work of the adult pea weevil, some-times called the pea and bean weevil.

It is just as ugly looking as the all other snout and beetles. Where it acquires its artistic touch is hard to say. But hunger is the motivating force.

The nothing of the leaves is of little importance in itself and the fairly harms the plants, but first damage is noticed.

$25-$35 Tax Aid Seen by Premier

The B.C. government's proposed tax exemption plan for homeowners will be a fixed dollar exemption based on the average assessment throughout the province on the first $1,000 value of a home.

Premier Bennett estimates the average exemption will be between $25 and $35. It will cost the provincial government about $8,100,000 if the average exemption is $30.

The premier said he is "thinking in terms" of a $1,000 taxable exemption. Previously $1,000 or $2,000.

He said the average assessment would be arrived at by taking the assessments in cities, municipalities, organized and unorganized areas.

FROM RESOURCES
"This is the only way we can help the low income group," the premier said. "The money is coming not from taxation of the people, but from the increased revenues from our great natural resources of forestry and natural gas."

If annual taxes are $100, the tax bill will show:
Less provincial government exemption... 30
Tax due from homeowner... $ 70

Labor Council To Request Family Court

A request for a family court in Victoria will be made to city council this week by Victoria Labor Council.

Jurisdiction would extend to marital difficulties, protection of children, truancy and incorrigibility of children.

Family cases are now handled in closed sessions of police court in operation and approval has been given by the bar association and welfare agencies which also back a Victoria court.

A six-member staff headed by a judge was suggested as a minimum staff. Community Welfare Council last year said a family court should be "disassociated psychologically, atmospherically and physically" from police court.

Ontario, Sioux Rifleman Tops In Four Fleets

The unofficial four fleet rifle championship of the Caribbean will be brought to Esquimaux Friday when HMC Ships Ontario and Sioux return from a training cruise with HMCS Venture cadets.

In a series of matches at Bridgetown, Barbados, and St. John, Antigua, a combined team from the Canadian ships defeated all comers.

After the Bridgetown match, Major E. R. Tulloch, adjutant of the Barbados Regiment, wrote Ontario:

"I would like to congratulate your team on their shooting. They recorded the highest score of any ship—British, Canadian, American, or French—that has competed in these matches since they started two years ago."

The Navy marksman are: PO John Pringle, Victoria, captain; PO Robert Cato, Vancouver; PO R. A. Parsons, Calgary; LS Harry Wells, Keeweenaw; LS Gordon Boyd, The Pas; PO Cliff Douglas, Victoria, and PO Archie Woods, Victoria. All but PO Cato are serving in the Ontario.

PLEASURE AFLOAT

Right Mating of Boat, Engine Needed for Safety, Enjoyment

By DAVE ANGUS

The versatile outboard motor is increasing in popularity constantly as a marine power plant, and prospective buyers have many types and sizes from which to choose.

In an effort to help them make a wise selection, Dave Angus, proprietor of Angus Marine Sales and Service, 2220 Douglas Street, prepared the following article for the Times.

With the increased popularity of boating, putting the right motor on the right boat for the right job is the first and most important step toward successful outboard boating. All the pleasures that await the newcomer to the sport of outboard boating will vanish in a sloppy wake unless utmost precaution is taken to see that there is no mis-matching. And, simple as it may seem at first glance, the proper mating of boat and motor is becoming more and more difficult due to an increase in hull variables such as broader beams, bottom designs and claimed overall lengths.

Outboard motors manufactured by the national firms are available in horsepower from three up to 40, and installations can be made either with one or two motors.

ADVICE NEEDED

In selecting the proper size outboard, the following discussion is intended as a guide only, and the buyer is cautioned to consult a reputable boat and outboard motor dealer for information on a specific hull design and advice on the size of proposed outboard.

Motors of three horsepower or less are used on boats ranging in length from nine to 15 feet, depending on the type of boat and speed desired. In this class we include the yacht tenders or dinghies, and on the boat of 12 feet the smaller horsepower motors are ideal for lake fishing with a cartop-style, which is fairly light, usually weighing around 70 to 100 pounds. The small outboard can be used on longer boats, these however being confined to boats commonly known as kayaks, or canoes with an outboard stern.

The next higher category in outboard motors includes the five to seven horsepower size, and these are designed for various types of boats ranging from the 12-foot cartop model to the 13-foot V-type semi-displacement utility. This size outboard appears to be the most common, and a great many of the home-built craft fall into this field.

FOR SALT WATER

For salt water fishing in local waters, particularly where tidal runs reach up to four knots in passes, it is recommended that motors with a minimum of five horsepower be used. For those who wish to go further afield, the 10 to 15 horsepower outboards are designed for the utility, runabout and light cruiser hulls of from

J. E. Astrope, 48, Dies Here

John Elmer Astrope, 48, prominent member of the Salvation Army here, and recruiting sergeant for the Victoria Citadel, died in hospital here Sunday.

Formerly of Nipawin, Sask., he had lived in Victoria since 1937.

Surviving are his widow, at home, 4905 Townsend Drive, Royal Oak; his father, William C. Astrope, and two sisters, Mrs. I. Foster and Mrs. E. C. Garrett, all of Victoria; and two brothers, Charles H., White Fox, Sask., and Craig, at Torch River, Sask.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. at McCall Bros chapel, and interment will be made at Royal Oak.

Special Class For Retarded Children Set

A special school class of about 40 retarded children will open in September in St. Barnabas' Anglican Church Hall on Reggie Street.

It will be organized by a special committee of Greater Victoria Association for Retarded Children in co-operation with school board officials. Financing will be by a $256 per pupil per term grant, authorized and paid 50 per cent. by the provincial education department.

6 Victoria Daily Times WEDNESDAY, MAY 23, 1956

In 1957, district 61 school budget will be required to allot about $10,000 for the purpose. This year there is no allowance in the budget for the four-month operation in 1956, but under the recently introduced provincial legislation the board may either borrow or over-expend its budget in that regard, according to senior municipal inspector, John Gough.

Mr. Gough said he thought payment of the grant would be made to the Vancouver headquarters of the Retarded Children's Association. President of the GVRCA, Duncan Macphail, said aim of the classes is to teach reading, writing and arithmetic sufficient to fit the children for independence in less complicated jobs. Ultimate aim is a permanent school with wider facilities.

Ethylene dibromide—a special aviation fuel formula now added to Chevron Supreme to bring you...

SKYPOWER!

Exclusive AVIATION BLEND puts new life in your car

- New freedom from knock
- Increased power
- Less engine wear

Giant airliners needed a gasoline anti-knock compound that fights deposits to assure maximum power... that's why ethylene dibromide was developed. Now—exclusive in Chevron Supreme—it does the same thing for modern high-compression cars.

Where all ordinary gasolines allow deposits to build up around valves and spark plugs, Skypower helps get rid of them. It keeps your engine at its peak of power far longer—actually restores lost power. And it reduces wear by burning clean.

This important motor fuel advancement comes to you in the gasoline that introduced carburetor-cleaning "Detergent-Action." Try a tankful of Chevron Supreme with Skypower today. Cars with lower octane needs get peak power from Chevron Regular.

Why SKYPOWER is an important part of today's most modern motor fuel

It's a costly tetraethyl fluid from aviation gasoline (formula: ethylene dibromide). It increases the available power in high-compression cars by insuring cleaner combustion.

Vaporizes deposits that cause knock. These deposits raise octane requirement, create need for spark adjustment.

Helps prevent valve and piston ring wear by getting rid of impurities that cause most corrosion.

Island Reception Pleases Premier

Bennett Plays Coy With Election Talk; Social Credit Sun Is Shining, Shining

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Premier Bennett looked out through his office window Tuesday evening and said: "Every day the sun shines brighter... politically and economically... with no thought of an election."

Then, beaming across his desk, eyes twinkling, he added: "I am not even thinking of an election. But there could be one—this year, next year or the year after that shall call an election whenever I think it is in the best interests of the people of this province."

In high spirits, the premier red back answers to questions with no hint of irritation for

Tired of Abuse, Slander

"You render no service to the community by pulling public opinion down as the opposition parties do. That is one reason so many good Liberals — and like Mr. W. J. Asselstine — are joining our ranks. They are tired of all the abuse and slander encouraged by the old Tories."

Mr. Bennett frequently turned answers to questions into logies of his government.

"Why should we worry about position complaints? The only complaint they have against us that we are doing too much."

Mr. Bennett said there might be a session of the Legislature next fall, depending on a report from the chief justice as to the need for a change in forest legislation.

He added some praise for the Social Credit government of Alberta and said the late Premier William Aberhart would go down in history as a great Canadian "as soon as we get past the partisan prejudice of this era."

Then he repeated his opening words: "Every day the sun shines brighter..."

He said his recent travels in 2 had given him "increasing confidence" of victory if there were to be an election. Not a can sweep, perhaps, but a handsome majority.

"Why, we had more people at our meeting in Nanaimo last week than all of the opposition parties put together. The people of this province know when they are well off."

ON TO BE IN FULL FLOOD Of the forthcoming Saskatchewan election, the premier blithely: "The tide of Social Credit is rising there. It will be in full flood."

When told that Liberal leader Arthur Laing had said he had no right to be in Saskatchewan, he smiled and said: "Arthur Laing is not a bad fellow, never attack personalities — only politics and principles."

Mr. Bennett declared the ans-Canada Pipe Line should be built as soon as possible. It would have been built long ago Canada had a national Social Credit government, "though it might not have been financed

AROUND and ABOUT With JO HEALY

CAYCUSE — WE'VE lately been initiated into active Little League, that splendid organization which means, literally, baseball for boys, but contains in actuality a lot more than learning the skills of a ball player.

Our team of rookies played their initial game at what we whimsically call Caycuse Stadium the other day, and while my enthusiasm was high, simply from studying the manual of Little League, my actual spectator participation has made me realize more deeply what a fine thing this is.

The clean sportsmanship of the players, on both teams pleased me. Our gang, who took a proper lacing from the visitors, never faltered in their eagerness not so much to win but to play their best game; and the visitors, veteran players whose precision moves were a delight to behold, showed never a trace of superiority or boredom over a team so obviously easy to beat and in need of experience.

BUT THIS IS WHAT IMPRESSED me as the most refreshing aspect of a game that I've concluded, has lost too many of the ideals of true sports. There was no heckling. There never is any heckling at a Little League game, either from spectators directed at umpire or player, or players directed at umpire or opposing teams. This is one of the hard and fast rules of Little League, and there is a tacit understanding on the part of everyone concerned that the rule be respected.

After years of listening to the hackneyed old catcalls of "the pitcher's up in the air," "kill the umpire," "swings like a rusty gate," etc., I found this utter absence of sordid ragging gratifying in the extreme. There's a great deal of audience cheering and applause for a fine play, whether it be your own team or the opposition, and the teams themselves credit with broad grins a neat coup by any player.

THE BOYS WHO, YOU'LL remember, are at the rather larum-scarum ages of 8 to 12, are so well-versed in the principles of Little League that it's not only the expected disciplinary action of management that prevents them from questioning the decision of an umpire, but the idea simply never occurs to them. And after quite lately watching a supposedly adult team, playing a supposedly friendly game, throw down their gloves, bats or hats not once but often in an inning and rush the umpire with much shouting and fist-shaking to dispute a decision, I've felt that my enthusiasm for Little League is justified; and, I feel, its influence on our growing boys won't be just a something thing, a seasonal something related only to the playing field.

To remember the words of their pledge and adhere to them through all walks of life would in itself be a deciding factor in the molding of desirable adults.

Little League pledge: I trust in God. I love my country and will respect its laws. I will play fair and strive to win. But win or lose I will always do my best.

DR. PETER KELLY

Cleric Raps Segregation Of Indians

VANCOUVER — A United Church minister on Vancouver Island has accused his church of continuing segregation of Indian and non-Indian congregations despite federal school policies.

Dr. Peter Kelly told the annual United Church conference that its work among the Indians was in an "unhealthy" phase.

Citing Nanaimo as an example of continuing segregation, he added that "we have been carrying on our old ideas too long."

"This is one step we could take before we assume a holier than thou attitude towards the United States problem with the Negro."

He explained that in some Indian communities church congregations necessarily were all-Indian, "but wherever possible we should allow the Indian to join general congregations," he said.

"My own church in Parksville, an all-Indian church, is only two blocks from the city church, but the Indians are given to understand that they must go to their own place of worship."

"Canadian schools are no longer segregated. Why should the church continue like this? We have been beaten in this by the federal government."

Dr. Kelly strongly urged that if the Indian were to be shown an example of "true Christian grace and spirit" he must be accepted into the congregations of the church without discrimination.

PILOT LANDED PLANE

Jet Navigator Hits Silk—Needlessly

COMOX (CP) — An RCAF navigator successfully bailed out of a CF-100 jet at Point Holmes near here Tuesday, but it turned out the trip wasn't necessary.

Flying Officer K. B. Parker, 21, of Lockerby, Ont., fired his ejection seat on orders from the pilot, Flying Officer L. F. Bolger, 27, of Kingston, Ont., when both engines in the jet failed.

However, FO Bolger relighted his engines and landed the plane here safely.

FO Parker landed in the sea 100 yards off southeastern Vancouver Island. He paddled ashore in his rubber dinghy and was reported in good shape.

FL Lt. R. J. Barker, the base adjutant, said Parker is "bubbling over with praise for the ejection equipment."

"We're going to use him to lecture on the use of the equipment," he said.

Chemainus Hospital Day Nets Nearly $400

CHEMAINUS — Hospital Day, staged by the hospital auxiliary, proved to be a popular and profitable venture again this year. Specialty sale stalls were sold out early and close to $400 was raised. Proceeds will be used to improve and expand facilities of the hospital kitchen.

A number of people were conducted on a tour of the hospital and inspected new hospital equipment.

Where's The Best Place To Live?

In Toronto (and freeze in winter)? Florida (broil in summer)? California? An Ontario farm? This question nagged Canadian-born Robert T. Allen like a toothache for years.

June Reader's Digest condenses his new $3.50 book "The Grass is Never Greener" — a hilarious report of his "research" in looking for the ideal place to live, and how he comes up with a definite answer. Or does he? Get your June Reader's Digest today: 38 articles of lasting interest condensed to save your time.

Extension Linked To Early Election

WINNIPEG (BUP) — The ally that extension was held to Winnipeg Free Press Tuesday one year because "the present government wishes to leave the next government free to make its own decisions." If it were not for this, "There is every reason to believe that Mr. Massey would have been asked to serve, if not for a full second term, for an extra three years contract."

The Free Press said editorially at least, the editorial said.

NEW ANTISEPTIC DEODORANT safely stops perspiration 1 to 3 days

Clinical tests prove that ARRID, now with Perstop[®], is 1½ times as effective as other leading deodorants. Arrid's antiseptic protection keeps underarms dry and odorless.

1. Safely stops perspiration and odors.
2. Will not irritate normal skin.
3. Protects clothes from stains and clinging odors.
4. Soft, gentle vanishing cream. Never dries out.
5. Easy to use! Rub Arrid in, rub perspiration and odors out.

DON'T BE HALF-SAFE USE ARRID—TO BE SURE!

You Can't Judge Food Savings on "Specials" Alone Compare ALL Prices to Get the Facts...

You'll find that you save plenty on your total food bill
at SAFEWAY

All food stores claim low prices, and advertise "specials" to back up their claim. But, Mrs. Homemaker, you can't feed your family on "specials" alone. They represent only a few of the hundreds of food items you buy over a period of time.

That's why we say "Compare ALL prices."

To make your comparison easier, we've listed in this ad hundreds of prices. Check them against what you would pay elsewhere. See for yourself how you can save at Safeway where prices are right—right down the line.

Even small differences in prices item by item add up to big savings on your total food bill.

German Firms Look to B.C. For New Trade

Vancouver Favored For Branch Plants

VANCOUVER (CP)—

Alderman Earle Adams says German industrialists are "definitely interested" in establishing branch plants in Vancouver.

In an interview on his return Tuesday from a three-week visit with a board of trade group, he said he was greatly impressed by the way in which German industry has recovered from the Second World War.

"They are working nearly all their plants two shifts a day. They are determined to put their nation back on its feet."

German businessmen were at their offices before 8 a.m. and seldom left before 6 p.m. "They are ready to meet you and talk business at any hour, day or night."

Alderman Adams said he will make a full report to the industrial development commission about German firms planning to open plants here.

Goodwill Party To Re-enact Fun At Dinner Meet

Victorians who took part in the Chamber of Commerce goodwill tour of the prairies this month will relive their experiences at a dinner organized by the Chamber's tourist trade group at the Golden Slipper club next Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

The goodwill party will re-enact one of the many dinners given for them in prairie cities. Present will be the characters made famous on the tour—Colonel Bimbleigh, Miss Lovelace, Mr. L. B. Wicket, Mr. Remittance Man and Mr. Bobby Hat.

Jack McIntosh will be master of ceremonies and community singing will be accompanied by Al Smith.

"We shall sing all the songs we sang on the prairies," Arnold Webb, secretary of the tourist trade group, said today, "and we shall try to recapture the happy spirit of the tour."

ESSENTIAL INGREDIENT PRODUCED AT TRAIL

B.C.'s Role in First A-Bomb Bared by U.S. Atomic Chiefs

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States Atomic Energy Commission has taken the wraps off a little-known Canadian contribution to the production of the first atomic bomb.

For the first time, it bared some of the details of the operation of a plant at Trail, B.C., for the production of a special kind of water—known as "heavy water"—which is an essential ingredient in the charge that goes into the bombs and other atomic weapons.

Commission officials, always close-mouthed on information relating to the military uses of atomic energy, hinted that the Canadian product also played a big part in the manufacture of the hydrogen bomb, the super weapon first produced by the U.S. five years ago.

For some years, the Trail plant was the only source of heavy water on the North American continent. The commission since has developed its own heavy water establishments in the United States and has put the Trail plant up for sale.

Heavy water, with a density about 10 per cent greater than that of ordinary water, is employed to sustain a chain reaction in a pile of uranium by "slowing down" neutrons, of atomic rays, released by the initial splitting of uranium atoms in the pile.

KEY INGREDIENT

Costs of research, development and construction at Trail totalled $2,500,000, with operating costs running from $200,000 to $300,000 a year, the commission reported. The plant's operation involved concentration and separation of deuterium, a key ingredient in the hydrogen bomb, from electrolytic hydrogen.

K. E. Fields, general manager of the commission, recently wrote to R. W. Diamond, executive Vice-president of Consolidated Mining and Smelting, expressing the commission's appreciation for the company's "pioneer efforts" in the operation of the plant.

"This effort," he wrote, "has contributed significantly to the history of progress in the development and application of atomic energy both for our own common defence and security and for peaceful purposes here and abroad."

AUSSIES HIT SNAG; OLYMPIC SITE FLOODED

MELBOURNE, Australia (UP) — Australia's Olympic officials added a new worry today when the Melbourne cricket ground, which will be the main site for the games next November and December, became waterlogged in three places for the third time in the past two weeks.

The areas became flooded following a moderate rain. The failure of the elaborate drainage system to keep the ground clear of water puzzles engineers, who hope to avoid digging up large areas to install more drains.

Olympic officials planned to press for assurances there will be no risk of flooding during the games.

IT'S MY VIEW BY Bill Walker

The weekend in review:
It couldn't have happened to a better bunch of hustlers — that 21-7 defeat handed the Shamrocks by Nanaimo Timbermen in the coal city Saturday night.
The Irish are a far cry from the championship team of last season, and yet they have lost only one game.
That speaks volumes for the spirit within the team.

Good Showing From Much Less

For take away the following and what do you get:
Jack Blonda, George Johnston, Peewee Bradshaw, Bob Dobie, Nip O'Hearn, Larry Bock, Arnold Ferguson, Whitey Severson, Archie Browning, Jake Proctor, Derry Davies, were all contributing factors in last year's Mann Cup victory.
And there isn't a one of them playing for the Rocks today.
And still the Irish are in the hunt for the league title.
So let's give the Rocks a pat on the back. They did it.
The defeat at Nanaimo was expected. The Tim won't lose many games at home this season. They are as much as anyone, and maybe a little more than some pro, give them credit for.
And from this corner they, and not Pils, are the club to beat for the agates.

Farmers in Pleasing Debut

Ed Ash's Farmers got off and rolling Saturday in the International Baseball debut. But the most pleasing aspect was the fan turnout.

Ed was tickled up the back by the 2,500 fans who attended the two games; and it proves his contention — that a strong city amateur team, using mostly home-grown players, can pay its way in international competition.

This is what some people said they wanted when pro baseball passed into extinction two years ago. And they've got it — and a first class team to boot.

The vital aspect is that support of an all-star city team is a must.

The little leaguers of last year are Pony Leaguers of today and the all-stars of tomorrow.

And, with each succeeding year, there are more and more little leaguers.

Who knows? In time, Victoria could be right back, smack dab on the baseball map.

Laurie Much in the Running

Rod Funtsh of Spokane won the B.C. Amateur golf title here Monday, but where does that leave the provincial Willington Cup team selectors?

Usually it's been automatic that the B.C. champ gets a berth on the cup side; but does that mean Gordon McKenzie, the finalist, is in? Not necessarily, say those in the know.

And because McKenzie has done little else this year, he must go into the "field" from which the team will be picked.

Despite his first-round defeat, Laurie Kerr of Colwood is still much in the running. He had a match play king, Kerr's medal round of 151, was only two strokes off the pace of McKenzie and Bob Kidd in the qualifying test; and medal rounds count much in the final reckoning.

Key could be Kerr's showing in the City Amateur, of which he is the defending champ, and the B.C. Closed medal competition at Capilano later in the year.

Major Change Sought In Hockey Icing Rule

MONTREAL (CP) — Proposal for a drastic rule change regarding icing the puck ran into lengthy discussion Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. The plenary session finally decided to send the question to its rules committee and, in turn, to the joint rules committee of the amateurs and professionals.

The resolution, submitted by

Canadian Hockey Team Earns Draw

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — A Canadian women's team from Vancouver drew 1-1 with Scotland today in an international women's field hockey contest here.

Half-time score of the game was 1-0 in Canada's favor.

The Canadian team is made up of 16 British Columbia girls who bolstered their travel fund to attend the tournament by baby-sitting and other fund-raising projects.

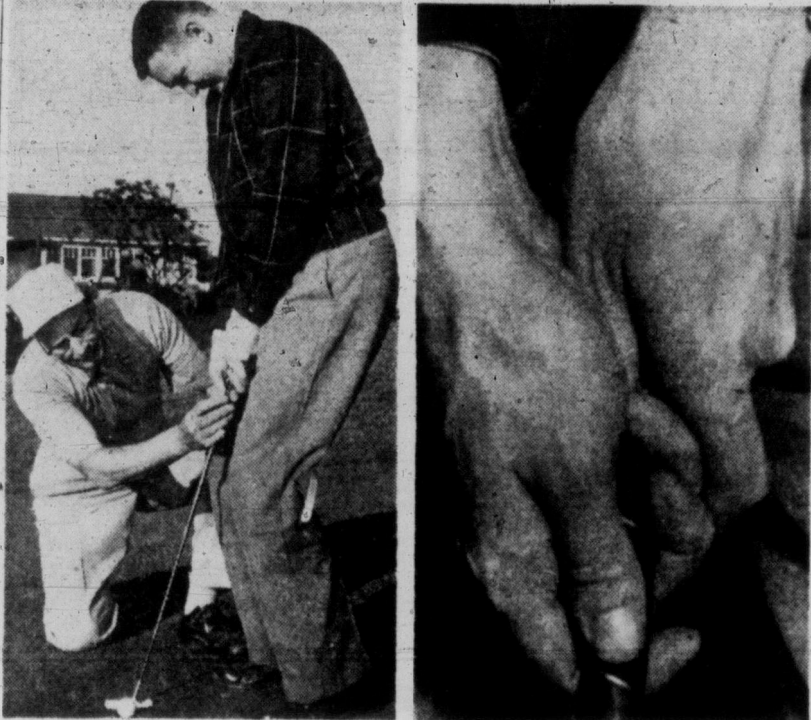

After the tournament — the girls will tour Australia and New Zealand, returning to Vancouver July 22.

UCLA Gridders Protest Charges of Illegal Aid

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Passing sensation Ronnie Knox and several other Bruins today planned to "take any test" in order to retain their football eligibility at UCLA next fall.

Knox declared Tuesday he was innocent of accepting illegal financial aid. He said he was "clean" and would prove it to the Pacific Coast Conference.

His statement followed a meeting of the football team in which assistant coaches outlined the PCC ruling which bans UCLA from NCAA competition for three years, fines the school $93,000, and declares UCLA football players ineligible for one year unless they can prove they received no extra funds.

PUTTING HAS ITS PROBLEMS, TOO

Times sportswriter Bill Rayner, who is taking lessons at the Gorge Vale Golf Club golf clinic, finds out that even putting has its intricacies and problems. In the first picture, professional Joe Pryke gets Bill to bend his knees while putting; while the second picture shows the proper putting grip.

LEARNING TO PLAY GOLF

Grip 'Uncomfortable' But Points Out Flaws

Times sports writer Bill Rayner is learning to play golf at the clinic being conducted by professional Joe Pryke at Gorge Vale Golf Club. Under Bill's instruction, he is learning the correct grip.

By BILL RAYNER
"This game," said Joe Pryke convincingly, "is easier to do well than badly."

The game is golf, and Joe, professional at Gorge Vale Golf Club, was addressing myself and several other hopefuls at the start of the second lesson of the annual beginners' golf clinic.

Joe, it's harder than you think.

Our second lesson was on getting the feel of the club and swinging it. Back and forth I swung that club Tuesday night, back and forth, while Joe and assistant instructor Bert Thirlwell listened dispassionately to the creaking of long-unused muscles.

Then my hands began to ache. "Hold the club, son," Joe had said. Left hand placed naturally on club. Right hand gripping below left, with little finger just resting over the forefinger of the left hand.

"It will feel uncomfortable for a while," said Joe.

The grip, however, was the thing we had to master, according to Joe, along with the swing. With the proper grip and a natural swing, Joe said, anybody can be a successful golfer. Even me.

After showing us what to do in the way of a proper swing, Joe split the class up into various groups under assistant instructors for more personalized scrutiny.

This is where he separated the boys from the girls and put four of us male students in a group by ourselves. It was not nearly as interesting, but was obviously necessary.

Under Thirlwell's critical eye, the flaws in my swing came glaringly apparent. First, my swing was too flat. I shifted the swing up higher, so the wrists broke just above my shoulder on the backswing.

My left knee was bending out.

The procedure to approach the pros was reached because under the working agreement between the pro and amateur bodies — now lapsed but being observed — the amateurs must get approval for playing rule changes from the pros.

Two resolutions emerging from the rules committee were okayed by the plenary session.

A misconduct instead of a major penalty will be imposed if a player throws his stick or a broken part of it, except when the penalty-shot rule is applied.

The rule regarding striking and molesting of game officials by players or club officials was tightened. Suspension may range from three games to five years.

The Alberta branch withdrew a resolution to eliminate the centre-ice red line — a playing style already permissible in mid-New Zealand, returning to Vancouver July 22.

After the tournament — the girls will tour Australia and New Zealand, returning to Vancouver July 22.

All Hank Needed Was Dodger Diet

Aaron Wages 1-Man War On Brooks

By The Associated Press

All Hank Aaron needed to shake loose from Milwaukee's list of slumping sluggers was a taste of Brooklyn pitching — just as Dodger manager Walt Alston feared.

Aaron, who hadn't been over 300 since the fourth game of the season, put himself right with a rousing four-for-five — a home run, double and two singles — as the National League-leading Braves pushed Brooks into fourth place Tuesday night with a 7-3 decision. It was Henry's first four-hit game of the season and upped his average to .313.

In spring training, Aaron batted a jolting .552 against the world champs and Alston commented: "What's more, he's likely to hit .552 all season. That fellow really is terrific."

Thus far in the regular season, the 22-year-old slugger is hitting Brooklyn pitching at a .536 clip — with five of his 17 hits and half of his four home runs. His stickwork helped Braves gain a slim 23-point edge over runner-up St. Louis. Cardinals ended a three-game Pittsburgh winning streak 6-3 despite a home run, double and single by Pirates' Dale Long, who gained the major league lead with a 4.11 bat mark. Cincinnati took over third, half-a-game ahead of the Brooks, by beating New York Giants 6-3.

In the American, Detroit catcher Red Wilson hammered a two-run homer in the ninth to end six-game winning streak by Whitey Ford and New York Yankees 3-2. Yanks retained their 21 1/2-game lead over second-place Cleveland, however, as Boston beat Indians 5-3. Kansas City beat Washington 6-1.

There were two rain-outs — Chicago at Philadelphia in the National and Baltimore at Chicago in the American.

MONAGHAN, BAMFORD RETURN

Rocks Ready For Timbermen

Victoria Shamrocks have put the memory of last Saturday night in Nanaimo resolutely behind them and will show up at Memorial Arena tonight in slightly better shape than usual.

Rocks, who lost to Timbermen, 21-7, Saturday, will host the powerful Nanaimo club tonight at the Arena, and once more first place in the Intercity Lacrosse League will be at stake.

But this time, the Irish figure on doing more about it. Coach Whitey Severson, who has more troubles than a soap opera, will have Jackie Northup, Bob Monaghan and Bill Bamford back in uniform.

Monaghan and Bamford missed Saturday's game with injuries, while Northup was unable to get away to make the trip.

Monaghan and Bamford will make up one defence combination. In front of rookie Don Hamilton, who is taking George Johnston's place in goal, Al Davies and Jack Thompson will be the other defensive pair, while the front lines will have Ed Longpre and Art Green, Jr., paired with Lou Landess; Ed Kowalsky with Al Gill and Harry Irwin, and Bert Bertoia and Mel Davison with Northup.

Besides Johnston, Peewee Bradshaw will be out of action. For the Timbermen, Gogie Stewart is the only regular expected to be missing tonight. Gogie is reported to be sticking strictly to soccer this year.

NANAIMO LINEUP
Fat Freddy Fulla will be in goal for Nanaimo, with coach Harry Wipper having himself, Lisle Scott, Arnie Dugan and Don Ashbee on defence.

Out front, he will pick from shifty Bobby Allan, Derry Davies, Spud Morelli, Don Sherry, J. White, D. Dumont, Clem Linford and Bob Raffie.

Dave Gives Nothing—Three Times

Dave Emery just doesn't like being scored upon.

For the third game in a row, Dave, who pitches for UCT in the Babe Ruth League, hurled a shutout as his team blanked McCall-Davy Drugs, 1-0, at Beacon Hill Park Tuesday night.

Emery struck out 15 men and gave up but one single in the fifth inning. Gerry Caldwell scored the winners' lone run in the sixth inning.

Jaycees Edge Police

In Pony League action Tuesday night, Jaycees, scoring five runs in the fifth inning, went on to defeat Oak Bay Police, 8-4, at Car-narvon Park. Murray Halkett was the winner.

Big Inning for Cougars

Cougars exploded for eight runs in the third inning at Hampton Road Park, to bounce Beavers, 11-3, in a Hampton Little League contest.

Lions Break Tie

Another big score saw Lions thump Merchants, 10-6, in an Esquimalt-Victoria Little League game at Bullen Park. Lions broke a 6-6 tie with four runs in the seventh inning.

Eagles Move Into First

Eagles took over sole possession of first place in the North Kwantlen League by downing Pages, 11-4, at Athletic Park.

Gyros Get Jump

Three runs in the first inning gave Gyros the jump and a 5-2 edge over Rotary in a National Little League game at Little League Park. Ken Heil was the winning pitcher, scattering nine hits.

Morrison Move Up

In the Colt League, Morrison moved into a second-place tie with Pacific by outslugging them, 9-8, at Windsor Park.

TIME OUT!

"Gotta throw it back, Mac. In this part of Texas that's undersize!"

Brodies Take Tournery Title

Jack Girard, giving up but two hits and striking out 12 batters, pitched Brodies to a 5-1 victory over May's Coffee Shop Tuesday night at Heywood Avenue Park to give Brodies the holiday senior B men's softball tournament.

Eddie Edwards hit a home run in the fifth for Brodies, and the losers' lone run came from a homer by George Zapotichny.

Gorge Belters Bump City Softball Lead

Swinging for the fences and connecting an appreciable percentage, Arrows' only run in the fifth inning, Gorge Hotel bumped City.

Arrows, 5-1, at Central Park Tuesday night to move further out in the Victoria Senior A men's softball league standings.

The hotelmen blasted out three homers off Arrows' pitching, to avenge a 9-5 loss Monday to the tail-enders in the final of the holiday softball tournament.

Flori Gogean, Gordie Jones and Jimmy Morrison wielded the big sticks Tuesday, Gogean breaking a 1-1 tie in the fifth with a two-run blast, and Jones and Morrison connecting in the seventh inning.

Ed Foychuck went all the way for the winners to the mound.

Halecos Blank Shores in Debut

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Halecos blanked North Shore Aircoos, 3-0, here Tuesday night in their first game of the Pacific Coast Summer Soccer League season.

A crowd of 965 paid watched Halecos take a 1-0 first half lead on a clever goal by centre forward Brian Philley and then wrap it up in the second half on goals by right half Jack Steele and left back Jackie Cowan.

Halecos were well worth the win, especially in the second half when their inside forwards took full advantage of Aircoos' weakness at the wing halves and set up several good scoring plays. On several occasions they just missed the goal and, on several others, Aircoos' goalie Joe Travis made brilliant saves.

The win moved Halecos into a first-place tie with Vancouver St. Andrews, who won 4-1 over New Westminster Royals in Saturday's game.

On Friday, Victoria United hosts the Royals.

Score:
Halecos 3, Aircoos 0.
Goals: Steele (1), Philley (1), Cowan (1).
Assists: Steele (1), Philley (1), Cowan (1).
Cards: None.
Referee: [Name].

Next game, Friday: New Westminster at Victoria.

Greens Lead Peewee League

Saanich greens are all alone in first place in the Greater Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association peewee division standings today, moving out of a three-way tie with a 7-5 decision over Saanich Tigers at Stevenson Park Tuesday.

The loss left Tigers tied for second place with Fernwood, who went down to defeat at the hands of Oak Bay Shamrocks, 7-5. It was Shamrocks' first win of the season.

Scorers follow:
Tigers—Barry Reagle 2, Don Munro 1, Dennis Taylor 1, Ken Percy 1, Total: 5.
Greens—Ted Hansen 2, Bruce Pollard 2, Neil Sander 1, Ken Reese 1, Doug Fieldhouse 2, Total: 7.

Score:
Greens 7, Tigers 5.
Goals: Hansen (2), Pollard (2), Sander (1), Reese (1), Fieldhouse (2).
Assists: Hansen (1), Pollard (1), Sander (1), Reese (1), Fieldhouse (1).
Cards: None.

SWAPS UNCERTAIN STARTER

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UP)—

Bobby Brocato may not get the chance to challenge Swaps in next Saturday's $100,000 added Californian at Hollywood Park.

Trainer Meshach Tenney Tuesday listed Swaps as an "uncertain" starter for the featured race. Tenney said the 1955 Kentucky Derby winner still was hampered by a weak right hock which has bothered Swaps since he was a two-year-old.

Tenney, however, did not count Swaps out of the mile and a sixteenth race. Swaps set a new world record of 1:40 2/5 in winning the big-money race last year.

CRICKET SCORED

WEDNESDAY, MAY 23, 1956

Prize Bulls on Show

LONDON (Reuters)—For the second time in a week the national game of cricket has come in for a drubbing in the British press—this time on the grounds that "the once pleasant, unassuming, natural English game has become as much a piece of publicized ballyhoo as a Hollywood film."

In a letter to The Daily Telegraph, the noted sports writer, Wentworth Day, complains that "cricketers nowadays are surrounded with an aura of nauseating deification."

Day took over from J. Norton of Cheltenham, who in the Telegraph last Friday declared: "I insist that cricket is not a good game. It is a tedious time waster and it requires a large expanse of ground. In return, it gives less exercise than could be obtained on a country walk. Let us keep cricket for those too old, infirm or idle for any other sport."

Day writes that Norton "pours the cold water of common sense on the modern fetish of cricket."

"The incredible ballyhoo and black-magic written and talked each summer about cricket has created a smug snobism of its own."

Prize Bulls on Show

LONDON (Reuters)—For the second time in a week the national game of cricket has come in for a drubbing in the British press—this time on the grounds that "the once pleasant, unassuming, natural English game has become as much a piece of publicized ballyhoo as a Hollywood film."

In a letter to The Daily Telegraph, the noted sports writer, Wentworth Day, complains that "cricketers nowadays are surrounded with an aura of nauseating deification."

Day took over from J. Norton of Cheltenham, who in the Telegraph last Friday declared: "I insist that cricket is not a good game. It is a tedious time waster and it requires a large expanse of ground. In return, it gives less exercise than could be obtained on a country walk. Let us keep cricket for those too old, infirm or idle for any other sport."

Day writes that Norton "pours the cold water of common sense on the modern fetish of cricket."

"The incredible ballyhoo and black-magic written and talked each summer about cricket has created a smug snobism of its own."

TO COMFORT HIS MOTHER?

Murderer's Eyes Not Given Youth

VANCOUVER (CP) — Someone may have told the story to comfort a sorrowing mother, a hospital spokesman said today in denying that the eyes willed by an executed murderer may give sight to a blind youngster.

Reports Tuesday said that less than 12 hours after Robert Graham died on the gallows the corneas from his eyes were transplanted to the sightless eyes of an eight-year-old boy. Mrs. W. J. Graham, mother of the executed youth, said a friend at the hospital told her the corneas would be used for this purpose.

The Vancouver General Hospital spokesman confirmed that the hospital received corneal tissue from the eyes of the 24-year-old minor who was hanged just after midnight Tuesday in Oakalla prison farm. But he added:

"Mrs. Graham's friend may have told her the story about the little blind boy to comfort her. I am sure nobody here in the hospital would be able to say where corneal tissue was used. And we have no eight-year-old who has had this operation."

ALWAYS SECRET

"If the story did help her that is some satisfaction. It was certainly untrue."

The spokesman, who said he didn't want his name used, said no grafting operations were carried out during the day. An operation was performed at night but the patient was an adult.

"You can be sure that a patient receiving tissue from Graham's eyes would never know," he said. "And the secret would not be passed on—we would make absolutely sure of that."

"Nobody can tell where eye tissue comes from once it reaches the eye bank. . . . The eyes could come from a saint or a murderer." The spokesman said there is no shortage of eye tissue in the bank "and it would only be by chance if Graham's corneal tissue was used in an operation."

The tissue must be grafted

Salon Emilie Big Success On First Day

MONTREAL (CP) — Marie Dionne's new flower shop opened formally in mid-town Montreal Monday, and business bloomed bright as the roses she sold.

Shy petite Marie, wearing a powder blue smock and with pencil in hand, bustled about her basement shop with a happy smile.

Business had been moving at a hectic pace since the doors "unofficially" opened Sunday to admit the first of some 10,000 Montrealers who flocked for a glimpse of the frailest of the four surviving Dionne quintuplets—and bought some 15,000 flowers.

Marie decided to open the shop after her health failed her, and she was twice forced to leave a Quebec City convent where she was studying to become a nun.

The shop is named Salon Emilie after Marie's late sister Emilie.

The shop was financed by Marie from her share of a $1,000,000 trust the quintuplets received on their 21st birthday May 28, 1955.

Heroine Genevieve To Marry Officer

PARIS (Reuters) — Mile. Genevieve de Galard-Terraube, known as the "Angel of Dien Bien Phu" for her heroism as a nurse during the siege of the Indochina fortress in 1954, is going to marry a French paratroop captain who fought in Indochina, the evening newspaper France Soir reports.

Her fiancé is Capt. Jean de Heaume de Beutocq, 33. He and the 31-year-old Genevieve, said to have met for the first time in Indochina two years ago, will be married here in the middle of June, the newspaper says.

The captain was out at the Dien Bien Phu fortress at the time Mile. de Galard won acclaim there.

THIS WAS AS EASY AS PIE

DETROIT (AP) — A large pizza pie Monday cushioned the head-first fall of a 10-year-old boy from an automobile. William Shelhart was holding the Italian delicacy while riding with a cousin. On a sharp turn the car door flew open and out toppled William. He fell head-first on the pizza and skidded across the paved street. He suffered a bruised knee.

'BARBARIC' FUNERALS SCORED

High Cost of Dying Under Fire in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — A Unitarian Church minister Tuesday night described as "barbaric" costly funerals in which bodies are made to appear lifelike and are placed on view in an open casket.

Rev. P. M. Petrusson told a public gathering such funerals have been accepted by some people as a pretense "that the person is not dead and that he is merely asleep."

The gathering established a temporary Manitoba Mortuary Society to do away with the "high cost of dying" and to ensure that funeral wishes of a dying person

Church Issue Brought Into Bitter Quebec Election Drive

By The Canadian Press
The two leading opponents in Quebec's election campaign marked the Victoria Day holiday weekend with displays of verbal fireworks that erupted into charges of bringing religion into politics and betrayal of the province to the federal government.

In a speech at Armagh, Que. Monday night, Liberal leader George Lapalme stepped up his party's campaign for the June 20 general election by saying he will protest to "the highest authorities" of the Church if Premier Duplessis continues to base his campaign on religion.

Mr. Lapalme was referring to statements made by Mr. Duplessis Sunday when the Union Nationale leader officially launched his party's campaign in his hometown of Trois-Rivières.

Robinson-Olson Drew Record Gate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hollywood Legion Stadium officials finished auditing the books Tuesday on the Sugar Ray Robinson-Bobo Olson middleweight championship fight last week and set the gross gate receipts at a California record, $233,331.

Television and radio rights added $100,000.

The net receipts were $202,354.90 and each fighter's share of the total was $90,708.47.

Esquimalt Blocks New Supermarket

A unanimous vote by Esquimalt council against rezoning part of Esquimalt Road from residential to commercial will prevent construction there of a huge supermarket by Kelly Douglas & Co. Ltd.

It was the second time the council has refused to re-zone 2.2 acres immediately east of Memorial Park. Council earlier turned down the request after receiving a petition from property owners and advice from regional planning commissioner.

The later request was made by Ker & Stephenson Ltd., agents for Kelly Douglas. They claimed that a majority of property owners in the immediate area favor the Super-Valu store, and argued it was impossible for them to obtain property of a desired size at an economical rate in a commercially zoned area in Esquimalt.

THREE, FIVE AND SIX-CENT ADMISSIONS PAID AT FESTIVITIES

Spectators Pinched Pennies at Victoria Day Events

Poor financial support for three Greater Victoria celebrations last weekend was indicated today as officials counted meagre revenue from events.

Most events depended on collections for revenue. Full returns won't be known for some days but the early picture showed many spectators kept their hands in their pockets when the hat was passed.

A crowd of 5,000 which attended the Sunday open-air concert by Victoria Symphony Orchestra at Beacon Hill Park donated only $280—less than six cents per person.

Spectators at a Thetis Lake motorboat regatta gave $97. Spread over 3,000 persons, this amounts to just over three cents each.

The pageant at Royal Athletic Park yielded $330 from a crowd estimated at 6,000, or about five cents per head.

Paid admissions at a dance at Memorial Arena amounted to $519 from the holiday crowd. The motorcycle rodeo brought in $273, but it cost $400 to stage.

"We won't know where we stand until the bills come in," said GVCA spokesman Capt. Norman Foster.

He said if the celebrations show a serious loss it might speed negotiations, under consideration for several weeks, toward a merger of the GVCA and the Junior Chamber of Commerce Industrial and Agricultural Fair.

GVCA chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said Tuesday that an early meeting will be held with the Jaycees on the matter.

"It would make the celebrations a week-long event," he stated.

Meanwhile, parade organizers, the Victoria Elks Lodge, plan to meet with parade judges Friday night to discuss methods of improving the big show next year.

"We want to get at it while it's still fresh in our minds," an official said.

Warning on Eating Given to Swimmers At Drowning Probe

Verdict of accidental drowning in the death Monday of Gary Pollock, 14, of Vancouver, in the Crystal Garden pool, was returned here today by a coroner's jury.

The jury recommended that when two swimming pool lifeguards are on duty and the pool is crowded, that one cruise the pool sides at all times and the other maintain a constant watch from the lifeguard tower.

Gary Pollock was one of a group of 250 Vancouver newspaper boys here as leaders in a promotional subscription contest.

The boy's father, Arthur Pollock, 824 East Fourth St., North Vancouver, testified his son wasn't a good swimmer and had learned only last summer.

Water-Logged

Medical evidence, presented by three doctors from St. Joseph's Hospital, was that death was due to drowning. The boy's lungs were waterlogged. His stomach was filled with recently undigested food, according to the autopsy report by Dr. D. B. Roxburgh.

He said "there was something of value to be remembered in connection with entering the water too soon after eating. The boy had eaten about 12.30 p.m. Douglas Crabbie, lifeguard, 1115 Balmoral, alerted to the boy's condition at about 1.45 p.m. by 12-year-old Kenneth Chattle, 3078 Carroll, dived in and brought the youngster to the surface.

Guards Move About

About 125 swimmers were there at the time, he said, and the large percentage were in the water. He and the other guard, Gerry Cuthbert, generally kept moving about, he said. The lifeguard found the boy on the pool's bottom at the seven-and-one-half-foot depth. The pool is nine feet deep at the main diving end.

Flapped His Hands

Norman McLeod, 644 Baker, said he saw the Pollock boy "floundering." He hollered and flapped his hands.

He said he tried to get over the spectator rail but fell back. "There were no guards there. They were at the deep end," he said.

Artificial respiration was applied immediately. The fire department arrived and oxygen was given. Police ambulance took the boy to hospital.

Three U.S. Ships Visit Esquimalt

Three United States navy ships are in port at Esquimalt today, two of them with reserve training personnel aboard.

The destroyer escorts Johnston and Nickle docked at 2 p.m. today and will remain in port until 9 a.m. Monday, in the course of a spring reserve training cruise.

The coastal defence vessel USS Elder arrived Tuesday, is due to leave at 7 a.m. Thursday.

School Concerts At Beacon Hill Start Tonight

A series of five open air concerts sponsored by Greater Victoria School Board with co-operation of Victoria Musicians' Union and Victoria Rotary Club will get underway tonight at Beacon Hill band pavilion.

Central Junior High and Victoria High School musicians will perform a joint concert tonight starting at 7.30 p.m.

Sunday at 3 p.m. Oak Bay High School band will give the concert. Wednesday, May 30, at 3 p.m., Mount View High will provide the entertainment.

Slated to be heard at dates to be announced early in June are S. J. Willis Junior High School band, Lansdowne Junior High School band and choir along with an orchestra whose members have been selected from all Greater Victoria schools.

Finally there will be a concert by Rotary Boys' Choir.

Fire Chief Frank Briers who was on the scene testified "there seemed a little trouble getting a doctor."

Constable Robert Morris of the city police said a doctor was "phoned for but we couldn't get one. We moved to St. Joseph's."

250 at Times

Crabbie said there were no specific instructions as to how many children were allowed in the pool at the same time.

He said he had seen as many as 250 in the water at once.

It was "taken for granted" children could swim before they arrived at the pool, he testified. There is a rope across the lower end at the three-foot level to keep back the smaller youngsters, and a rope near the deep end to keep swimmers out of the way of divers.

It was the first drowning at the Crystal Garden since it opened more than 30 years ago.

HIGHER COFFEE PRICES EXPECTED SOON IN CITY

Victoria housewives can expect to pay slightly higher prices for coffee in the next two weeks.

Vancouver wholesale grocers foresee a reflection on the coast of a two to four cents a pound wholesale price jump set this week by four eastern U.S. processors.

A Victoria wholesaler said whatever happens to Vancouver prices will likely happen here because Victoria coffee comes from processors in Vancouver.

Wholesale coffee prices dropped three cents a pound last April 2.

MORE GAMES PLANNED

Kinsmen Ignore Bingo Protests

Giant bingo games are ex-profits for charity work, has come under fire from the United Church B.C. conference and other churchmen.

Bingo was discussed in committee group at the Kinsmen executive meeting, Mr. Lea said.

"We did not discuss the church opposition. The churches are against all forms of gambling and I guess this is a form of gambling."

"We have had other projects, of course, and if we didn't have something like this we would probably have some kind of raffle," he said.

Victoria Kinsmen have not discussed bingo recently, but still plan a game in Memorial Arena June 4.

The United Church said in a week-end meeting at Vancouver bingo games for charity are "injurious to the moral health of the participants and the community."

Churchmen said they considered it a matter of utmost importance to launch a militant campaign against big bingo.

NO SET POLICY
Ken McConnell, B.C. district governor of Kinsmen Clubs, said the organizations have no set policy on the matter of bingo games, allowing local clubs to make their own decisions.

"All the clubs are interested in running bingo games," said Mr. Lea. "Peopple like to play bingo."

ASK THE TIMES

Q—How did Big Ben, the world-famous great hour bell in the tower of the Houses of Parliament in London, come by that name? J.T.

A—The BBC London Letter recently told the story briefly as follows: "The Great Clock of the Palace of Westminster—to use its real name—came into service on May 31, 1859. . . Sir Benjamin Hall, Chief Lord of the Woods and Forests (whose modern counterpart would be the Minister of Works), a man of massive physique and a massive capacity for making long speeches, was pleading for the name St. Stephen when an exhausted member of Parliament shouted 'Why not call it Big Ben and have done with it?' The nickname stuck."

NO NAMES

He could not name them, he said.

"How can I track these instances down if I haven't names?" Mr. Dryer complained.

Mr. Buffam also said he had spoken with parents about conditions at the school, but that he would not name them.

Kenneth C. Murphy, board chairman, said that since the hearing was not in a court of law he feared the consequences of defamatory statements being made.

"I'm not in the least concerned with defamation," Mr. Dryer said, "not where children are concerned."

Later, in discussing parents' statements, Mr. Dryer stated: "If people have said something, there is no reason for protecting them from the consequences of what they have said."

BETWEEN TIMES

By

MONTE ROBERTS

You have no idea what a comfort it is to have two female types in the house, always ready to help in time of emergency.

No matter what goes wrong, My Favorite Wife and Judy Boots Streak, the dog who lives at our house, rally 'round. They are there with encouragement, advice, moral support, and, above all, a calm, restraining influence. As you will see.

The other evening, the residents of our house were distributed as follows:

MFV was sound asleep, in bed.
JB was sound asleep, on the rug at the foot of the bed.
The Old Man was half asleep, with his nose in a book in the living room.

All was peaceful, calm, and silent. Then, suddenly, from the kitchen there emanated a sharp "pop" followed by a high-pitched hissing.

The Old Man leapt out of his chair and dashed for the kitchen. There he was greeted by a most intriguing sight: through a small hole in the top of the hot water tank gushed a geyser of water, only slightly smaller than Old Faithful at Yellowstone Park.

"My goodness," said The Old Man, reflectively, "the tank appears to have blown its top."

From the bedroom came cries of "What's the matter? What is it? What? What? What?"

Also, a low, menacing growl, from deep in JB's throat. Not pausing to reply, The Old Man turned off (a) the tap leading into the tank (b) the kitchen stove (c) the outside valve leading from the main.

He also turned on the hot water tap in the kitchen, and a few seconds later, the geyser subsided. On the kitchen floor were only a few gallons of water.

At this moment, The Old Man noticed the two female types of the house, and thanked his lucky stars for their calm, confident deportment.

My Favorite Wife was dashing around, pulling out the electric cords from all the lights, radio, and everything else that could be pulled out.

This done, she opened all the doors and windows, putting her head through one of them and remarking "Help. Fire. Murder. Police."

Then, in the calmest possible manner, she told The Old Man to telephone the (a) fire department (b) the doctor (c) Premier Bennett (d) the Greater Victoria Water Board (e) the plumber and (f) any good hotel because she wasn't going to stay in the same house with a waterfall which falls up.

And what about Judy Boots Streak?
She was even more helpful.
She hid under the bed.

In time of emergency, there is nothing like a couple of dependable female-types in the house.
Nothing.

NEW ARRIVAL HERE from interior, Mrs. Vera Dunham, charges city real estate firm with discrimination in renting family home as husband is soldier.

'NOT UNCOMMON HERE'

Soldier Refused House in Oak Bay

Mother of four and a new arrival to Victoria, Mrs. Vera Dunham, charged today that a city real estate firm refused to rent an Oak Bay home to them because her husband is in the army.

CALIFORNIAN ON WAY FOR STRAIT BID

Juan de Fuca Strait contender Mrs. Amy Hilland, Long Beach, Calif., planned to leave for Victoria today in order to begin a training program in local waters. She is expected to arrive this weekend.

We are going to give the time to line up a sponsor and get better conditioned to the water," the champion swimmer said.

She indicated two weeks ago she wants to make a swim try from Victoria later in the summer. Her husband will be with her.

Ack-Ack Battery Marks Birthday With Parade

Men of 4 Light Anti-Aircraft Battery marked the 101st anniversary of the Royal Canadian Artillery today with a wreath-laying ceremony at Memorial Park, Esquimalt.

Led by Battalion Bugles of Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, two troops of gunners paraded to the park, led by battery commander Maj. Robert McAlpine.

They marched past Esquimalt Municipal Hall, where a reviewing stand was set up for Reeve A. C. Wurtele and Garrison commander Lieut.-Col. J. C. Cave, who took the salute.

At the war memorial Gunners T. M. Morrell, Midlandvale, Alta., and A. G. Mathiasen, Edmonton, laid a wreath on behalf of officers, warrant officers, NCOs and men of the battery as a token of remembrance for fallen gunners.

Bugles played the Last Post and The Retreat.

About 500 garrison soldiers, together with wives and children, were to hold a sports day at Work Point this afternoon.

Children were let out of school at 2.15 to enable them to take part.

RAISE RENT

She said the real estate man stated his firm "might stretch a point" and perhaps rent the house by raising the rent from $65 to $80 a month, and taking two months rent in advance, holding one month as security for possible damage.

"I lived in Camp Chilliwack six and a half years, and we left there without being assessed one cent for damages."

Her husband is Cpl. William Dunham, 31, 3rd Field Squadron, RCE, stationed at Work Point Barracks. She is an ex-CWAC.

"I have four children, so children and soldiers seem to be in the same category. Nobody wants them. My husband is not just a wartime soldier. It's his life career, so I suppose we shall have to pitch a tent on the steps of the Parliament Buildings."

WITH SISTER

Mrs. Dunham is now staying at the home of her sister, who also has four children. In the house are six adults and eight children. And it's a six-roomed house, in Esquimalt.

"I'm going back to Chilliwack with the children if I can't find a place to live here," the petite woman said. "We were dependable people in Chilliwack. It's just not right, the situation here. The sort of place I need should have four bedrooms. We have our own furniture, and could pay $65 or $70 a month."

The children are three boys aged 12, 9, and 3, and a five-year-old daughter.

"I just thought someone should know what went on," she said.

LAUNCHED ON MACKENZIE

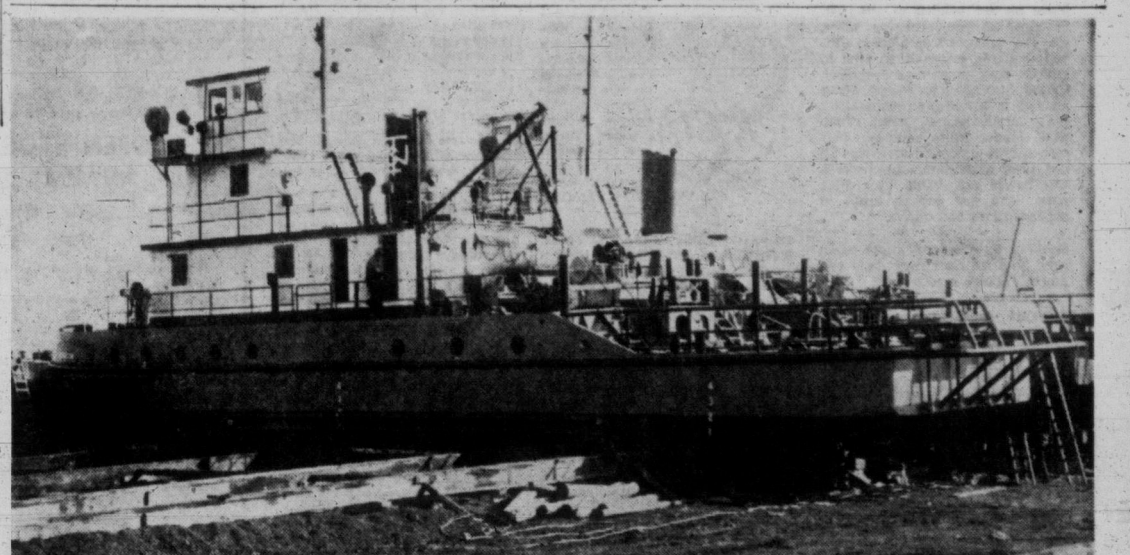

Victoria-Built Tugboats Start Work in Northland

Far from the salt chuck where they were built, three sturdy shallow-draught tugboats from Yarrow's Esquimalt yards will soon be in service on the "down north" waters of the Mackenzie River.

The first of the three was launched at Waterways, Alta., at the head of the northern river navigation system, on May 12.

The tugs were completed here early this spring, but missed the traditional launching from the builders' ways. Instead, they were cut apart in sections and shipped to Alberta by rail.

The tugs are 95 feet long, 28 feet in beam, and are powered by twin 280-hp diesels.

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Frilly White Doilies Are Made of White Plastic

By PENNY SAVER

Lacy doilies to pretty up serving plates or to place under figurines and table arrangements usually last only a short time, because most of them are made of paper. Liquid or dust mars them, and soon it's time to put out more. How would you like to have doilies, not cloth ones either, that can be washed? If so, 59 cents will buy you four frilly, white plastic doilies that are not only washable, but stain resistant as well. They form a soft cushion underneath figurines, so that the surface of the table will not be marked.

Some time ago, I found a gadget that would cut hard-boiled eggs into quarters rather than slices like most egg cutters. Quick as a wink, they were sold out, so that many of you readers who went shopping for them were disappointed. Now the same company has put out a similar egg cutter, but also quarters the eggs, but it works with a long-like action, neatly and quickly. Made of light-weight metal, they cost 99 cents.

If the youngster in your house is in the process of learning to feed himself, you're probably very familiar with sight of the little one trying to manipulate an oval spoon that just doesn't seem to fit that tiny mouth. To make things a bit easier, a company has put out a spoon especially for small children. The handle is slightly off-centre, so that the left side of the spoon, which is naturally the side the youngster tries to put into his mouth, is out further than the other side. Meantime will be a little less messy and hectic for both mother and child when eating's made easier. These spoons are just 29 cents each.

Still in the houseware department, I found something that will be welcomed by all women who like to bake. The old-fashioned practice of testing cakes with a straw or knife blade is still popular, but it's always easier if a special thin wire is around to do the job. For 15 cents, just such a straight, firm cake tester is yours.

On the end of the metal tester is a loop so that it can be hung with the rest of the kitchen utensils.

Rather than go hunting around town for the items I've mentioned in the column, do it the easy way—call me at 2-3131 and I'll tell you where to find any and all of the articles I've talked about today or during past weeks.

French Lace, Slipper Satin Worn at Salt Spring Wedding

Maureen Gertrude Twa wore a wedding gown of white French lace over slipper satin for her marriage in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Fulford Harbor, Salt Spring Island, to Walter Edward McCallum.

The gown, made and designed by the bride, had a full, bell-shaped skirt, and the fitted bodice was topped by a short, lace bolero. A crown of pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of rapture roses and stephanotis.

White lilacs and tulips decorated the church for the double ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Twa and the son of Mrs. Walter Lasseret, all of Fulford Harbor. Archdeacon G. H. Holmes conducted the service and Mrs. W. Palmer was organist.

Hymns, "Guide me, O Thou Great Jehovah" and "Breathe on me, Breath of God" were sung. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Jacqueline Twa, maid of honor, Lorraine Twa, junior bridesmaid, and Susan Simila, flower girl, all wore ballerina-length gowns of pale pink Versailles taffeta with wide lace collars and short, puff sleeves of lace. Maid of honor and bridesmaid carried bouquets of blue iris, and flower girl carried a colonial bouquet of iris and pink carnations.

Edward Dodds was best man and Leslie Twa usher.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY
(MOTHER OF 5)

Sighing over that avic pre-baby figure that somehow has never quite come back? Why not try these common-sense suggestions? Start by watching your posture...sitting, standing, walking, working. Pull in your tummy. Throw back your shoulders for an "uplift" look. Pull ribs away from hips by stretching whenever you can (bed making is swell for this). Amazing how these little things help whittle a waist, tone down a tummy, nip inches off a hip.

Daily doses. Exercise is good for baby too, and just as important rest. Baby gets it by kicking off "shadow-boxing" with his arms, so clothing and bedding should not be restricting. A little kicking time, before bath-time is excellent. It will help to develop baby's strength.

More on the subject of strength. Proteins, as you probably know, are the great strength-givers—the body-building materials so vital to growth and muscle development. Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are rich in complete proteins—have the savory true-meat flavor babies like. Made from selected juicy cuts, they're processed to reduce fat and fiber to a minimum, so even tiny babies can digest them. Pure meat, with just enough broth to enhance flavor and texture.

Snip tip. Baby outgrowing that knit suit? Snip off the "rotch; hem and presto! You've a polo shirt.

Special treats for your sweetest. Babies develop a "sweet tooth" all too quickly. But fruits or puddings make better desserts for baby than cake or cookies.

Why not satisfy baby's "sweet tooth" with one of Gerber Strained Desserts—Orange and Pineapple Custards or Fruit.

Dessert? All are made with wholesome ingredients. All are delicately flavored—altogether wonderful.

TO WED IN JUNE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenkins, 2121 Kings road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Maureen Paula Jenkins, to Constable Kenneth Gilbert Watson, RCMP, Penicton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson of Nanaimo. The wedding will take place June 23 at 8.45 p.m. in Centennial United Church. Mrs. R. J. Anderson will be matron of honor; Mrs. W. A. Robinson, bridesmaid; Misses Louise Watson and May Inglis, bridesmaids. Flower girl will be the bride's cousin, Judy Davidson. (Photo of Miss Jenkins by Coertz).

Mrs. Lionel Massey Wears Short Gown to Ottawa Ball

OTTAWA (BUP) — Mrs. Lionel Massey, chateleine at Government House as the widowed Governor-General's daughter-in-law, has answered the question that's been bothering women of fashion lately: Is a "short" evening dress the thing to wear at a ball of importance? She wore one, of white lace over taffeta, with a green satin stole at a Government House ball which closed Ottawa's social season.

Guests waltzed under the crystal chandelier of the vice-regal ballroom, or sipped champagne at the bar.

Governor-General Vincent Massey, escorting the wife of the dean of the diplomatic corps, Mrs. A. H. J. Lovink of The Netherlands, brought the social season in the capital to an end with the second of two big 800-guest formal receptions, dances and supper parties rolled into what the invitation said, and which turned out to be, a ball.

The orchestra, in an alcove off the ivory and gilt ballroom behind a bank of spring daffodils, was playing "Dungaree Doll."

Donations.—At meeting of the Happy Valley Women's Institute, donations were voted to the Salvation Army and to the Luxton Hall committee. Plans were made for a bingo night on June 13 at Luxton Hall. Mrs. E. Middleton reported on plans to install a furnace in the hall and a successful plant sale was held at the close of the meeting.

In the world of Desserts

The old saying still goes—that "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach". And this applies to every other member of the family, too. So, if you're looking for a dessert to conquer the hearts and appetites of your family—a dessert that's different from the run-of-the-mill kind—try a fresh-tasting, tangy, utterly delicious lemon dessert!

Lemon-desserts needn't take long, tedious preparation—not when you use Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling. You need no double boiler to make this creamy-smooth, perfect filling—just a cup, a pan and a spoon, and away you go!

Here's fresh-flavored lemon pie in a new dress. This time, the zesty filling folds into the meringue to make a wonderful, melt-in-your-mouth dessert!

LEMON CHIFFON PIE
Prepare Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling and Meringue as directed on package. Do not cool, but very gradually fold hot filling into the meringue mixture until blended. Pour into baked 9-inch pie shell (or Coconut Crust). Chill. At serving time, border the pie with whipped cream. Garnish with bits of cherries.

AS A CHANGE from a pastry shell—here's a scrumptious new quickie pie shell to set off your delicious lemon filling.

COCONUT CRUST
Spread 2 tablespoons soft butter evenly on bottom and sides of an 8- or 9-inch pie pan. Sprinkle 1½ cups Baker's Coconut in pan, pressing evenly into the butter. Brown in slow oven (300° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Chill.

In pastry shell or coconut crust, light-hearted Jell-O Lemon Chiffon Pie has a way of disappearing quickly when you set it before a dessert-hungry family. So be sure you make plenty! The flavor of Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling, you know, is pure fruit from real lemons.

Egg whites are best for meringue when at room temperature. Be sure to separate whites completely from yolks, as any fat in the egg whites prevents the whites from beating up.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

'Singing Seniors,' Peppy Oldsters, Staying Young

I promised to tell you today about the "Singing Seniors." They are really a glee club, formed under the direction and with the financial aid of The Musicians' Emergency Fund, and at the request of the Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies.

This group is unusual because the average age is 70, the youngest member being 65 and the oldest 90 years of age. I had heard about them, and was eager to see and hear them. I had that pleasure not long ago.

First I must tell you that they look like a much younger group, not only because of their appearance but because of their humor, enthusiasm and general outlook. Four members showed up for practice following one of the big snow storms in New York, when the weather and traffic were far from normal.

I had wondered how a choral group of that age would sound. They sang beautifully and their voices were lovely. Only once in a long time, on a very high note, would you even suspect them to be an older group.

They were organized a little more than a year ago. Today they have 37 members, 26 women and 11 men. They come from six homes for the aged and two Golden Age Clubs. You can tell that they love what they are doing. Their enthusiasm and that of their director is contagious.

I asked what these men and women had done in their more active years. Among them is a graduate nurse, a teacher, a pastry chef, a wrestler, a librarian, a housewife, a designer and a stenographer.

They have been very successful ever since their first appearance. They sing at homes for the aged, at churches, and on radio. After their performance in a home for the aged a social period follows, and the group has its own parties too.

You can tell what a fine time these older people are having. They meet their new friends at each practice session and at parties. They take their song books home and practice and sometimes sing solos for the people in their own home for the aged.

They take great pride in their work. One woman said, "This keeps us young. We are going forward rather than backward."

Another, eagerly, "We have improved, haven't we?" They are eager to progress and interested in branching out into television.

Here's a salute to the Singing Seniors and to all of the older folks they make happy.

Field Marshal at June Ball

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of Alamein, NATO deputy supreme commander, who will be in Victoria the end of this month, has accepted an invitation to attend the June ball of the Armed Services Centre in HMCS Naden as an honor guest.

The Field Marshal will be a guest at Government House during his stay in the city, and will be in the party going to the ball with His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross.

The Government House party will arrive at HMCS Naden at 10 p.m. and will be received by Lieut.-Col. Cyril Wightman, chairman of the Armed Services Centre ball committee.

Returns From Interior Trip

Mrs. Stella Gummow, superintendent of Women's Institutes in British Columbia, returned to Victoria on Tuesday morning after a three-week motor trip in which she attended district meetings at many points including the North Thompson at Birch Island, North Okanagan at Vernon, South Okanagan at Okanagan Falls, Arrow-Lakes at Arrow Park, Kootenay at Fruitvale, East Kootenay at Cranbrook, and the first meeting of the newly-formed Kettle River district at Rock Creek. Institutes in many of the districts had adopted the dogwood motif for this year's meetings and their members wore dogwood badges.

A Marriage Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. G. Brasseur, 128 Montreal street, formerly of Dawson, Yukon, wish to announce the wedding of their youngest daughter, Austina Raymond, to Arthur Ernest Parsons, oldest son of Lieut.-Col. A. E. Parsons and Mrs. Parsons, 3761 Saanich road. The ceremony took place in St. Luke's Church on May 17 with Canon F. Pike officiating. Maid of honor was Miss Hazel Brunson, and the brother of the groom, W. R. Parsons, was best man.

World President Coming

Mrs. A. M. Berry, president of the Associated Countrywomen of the World, will arrive in Vancouver from Australia on Thursday to be a guest speaker at the three-day Women's Institute provincial conference at University of British Columbia next week.

On Saturday, Mrs. Berry will fly to Victoria to spend the weekend and while here will be the guest of Mayor Percy B. Scurrah and Mrs. Scurrah at their home on King George Terrace.

Saturday afternoon members of Colwood Women's Institute will hold a tea in the Colwood Hall in Mrs. Berry's honor. Members of nearby institutes have been invited to attend.

On Saturday evening the department of agriculture will give a small informal dinner at the Empress Hotel for Mrs. Berry.

On Monday morning, Mrs. Berry, accompanied by Mrs. Stella Gummow, superintendent of Women's Institutes in British Columbia, will call at Government House where they will have coffee with Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia.

Later on Monday, Mrs. Berry will motor to Nanaimo with Mrs. Gummow, where they will cross to Vancouver for the conference.

Weekend at Pinewoods

Mrs. Marguerite Laughlin, president of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, headed a group of local members who attended the British Columbia provincial conference of BPW clubs held at Pinewoods Lodge in Manning Park on the Hope-Princeton Highway over the weekend. Others in the party were Mrs. Ruby Masters, Miss Lillian Henderson, Mrs. Kate Farquharson, Mrs. Clare Lord, Mrs. Madge Hall, Mrs. Lillian Smith, Miss Minnie Beveridge, Miss Elizabeth Forbes, Mrs. I. Davidson, Mrs. W. McCann, Misses M. Trotter and F. Peterson.

A Vancouver Wedding

Miss Helen Gibson, secretary of the Victoria Musical Art Society, recently married Miss Raven Janet Amos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Amos of Victoria, was united in marriage with Mr. Gus Hallgren, son of Mrs. G. Hallgren, Vancouver, and the late Mr. Hallgren. Rev. Robert R. Cunningham officiated at the double-ring ceremony at which the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. J. B. Tait. Mr. Tait was best man. The bride wore a simple sheath dress of pale blue linen with portrait neckline accented by a hat of white soufflé straw, and white linen shoes. Mrs. Tait wore a pastel pink ensemble with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds left for a brief visit to Portland, and upon their return will take a honeymoon cruise in B.C. coastal waters in their boat, the Raven's Wing.

Back From Cranbrook

Mrs. David Swan, honorary president of the Ladies' Auxiliaries to the British Columbia and Northwest States Command, Canadian Legion, has returned home after attending the annual convention held in Cranbrook.

Guests at Wedding

Special guests at the McCallum-Twa wedding on Salt Spring Island last Saturday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. T. Twa, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Simila, Mr. and Mrs. John McKinley, Ladysmith; Mr. S. Bonner, Mrs. Ray Anton, Vancouver; Miss M. Bonner, White Rock; Mrs. C. E. Schmidt and sons, Quesnel, and Mrs. George Zoble, of Squamish, B.C.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the Jones-Walker wedding, Saturday evening, in St. John's Anglican Church were Mrs. F. MacGrath, of New Westminster; Miss S. MacGrath, Miss P. Cunningham, Mrs. F. Sharpe, Mr. F. Crook, all of Vancouver; Mrs. C. Spinney and Miss J. Spinney, Tacoma, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker and Mr. J. Walker, Chemainus, and Mr. R. Robertson, of Nanaimo.

A Winnipeg Visitor

Miss Doris Prudent, who came from Winnipeg to attend the graduation of Miss Beverly Wells from St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing last Sunday, will return to Winnipeg next Wednesday, after visiting other friends on the Island at Sidney and Lake Cowichan.

Miss Kinney Feted

Miss Jane Kinney was guest of honor recently when Mrs. W. Raybone and Mrs. V. Jacobson entertained at the Lamson Street home of the latter with a miscellaneous shower. Many gifts were concealed in a blue and white container. Pink carnations in corsage were presented to Miss Kinney, while her mother, Mrs. E. E. Kinney, received white carnations. Guests were Mrs. G. Johns, Mrs. R. Steeves, Mrs. M. Armstrong, Mrs. B. White, Mrs. M. Carver, Mrs. G. Atkinson, Mrs. K. Rainey, Misses Lorraine Leask, Anita Burton and Doreen King.

A white embossed net over tulle, a white tulle gown fashioned in long torso style with tiers of frills highlighting the skirt was worn by the bride, Miss Loretta Blanche Mitchell, for her wedding last Friday to Neale Reginald Smith. Mother of pearl sequins and seed pearls outlined the collar of the tiny jacket topping the strapless bodice. A fingertip veil misted from a sweetheart headdress of net trimmed with seed pearls. Red roses and white carnations were in her bouquet.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Mitchell, Heckley Avenue, Langford, was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Beverly D. Renshaw, sister of the bride, wore a lime green dress with strapless bodice and tiny jacket. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and red roses, and wore a head bandeau of lime green flowers. Junior bridesmaid, Miss Shirley M. Smith, sister of the groom, wore a daffodil yellow nylon tulle dress. She carried a bouquet of red roses and naive carnations, and wore a garland of flowers in her hair.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels A. Smith, Atkins Avenue, Langford, had his brother-in-law Walter C. McKay as best man, and Jack Gurney and Delano Mitchell as ushers. Capt. H. J. Robbins officiated in Metropolitan United Church.

A reception party was held in the Legion Hall, at Langford, where spring flowers and foliage formed the decorations. A tellis of flowers and ivy-framed the bride couple as they received their guests. An eucalyptus cloth covered the bride's table which was centred by a three-tier wedding cake. The ornamental top of the cake was used on the groom's parents' wedding cake 30 years ago. Music was provided by Ray Barron on the accordion, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Spence. Lawrence W. Kerr proposed the toast to the bride. Leaving for a honeymoon trip

Miss E. M. Peterson Bride of J. W. Crossen

Rev. E. Laura Butler performed the ceremony in Metropolitan United Church recently when Miss Eleanor Marie Peterson, daughter of Mrs. C. M. Peterson, 3333 Cedar Hill Road, and the late Mr. N. A. Peterson, exchanged vows with James William Crossen, Regina. Apple blossoms and tulips formed the setting, and organist, Mrs. W. B. Milburn, played traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Charles Peterson, chose for the ceremony a ballerina-length white net and lace gown with lily point sleeved jacket. Her waist-length veil was held to a coronet. White carnations and red roses were in her bridal bouquet. Her only jewelry was a lily point necklace with matching earrings, the groom's gift.

Matron of honor was Mrs. R. A. Peterson, sister-in-law of the bride who wore a mauve net and lace ballerina-length dress. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations, and her headdress a miniature band of flowers.

Miss Helen Gibson, secretary of the Victoria Musical Art Society, recently married Miss Raven Janet Amos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Amos of Victoria, was united in marriage with Mr. Gus Hallgren, son of Mrs. G. Christians Must Unite For Unity of Nations

Christian denominations cannot afford to be divided in their work, Dr. Mary Roberts, formerly medical missionary at the medical school in Ludhiana, India, told members of the diocesan board of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church in Canada at a meeting at St. John's, Colwood.

If the teachings of Christ are to bring the nations together then Christian denominations must work together, Dr. Roberts said.

The speaker pointed to the great need for nurses in India. "In Canada there is approximately one nurse to every 300 persons," she said, "while in India there is only one for every 4,300 persons."

Mrs. B. P. Harding presided; Mrs. R. W. Robinson welcomed members; Mrs. D. M. Bird read the scriptures and Mrs. R. Little took prayers. Archdeacon R. Little took noonday devotions.

A life membership was conferred on Mrs. C. Bodman, with Mrs. Little presenting the pin; Mrs. Robinson the certificate and Mrs. E. K. Brown, the corsage.

It was reported by Dorcas secretary Mrs. G. V. Jarvis that a wheelchair, 30 yards of flannel sheeting, four large bales containing blankets, afghans, towels, dish towels, face cloths, baby jackets and bibs, soap, talcum powder and creams, hospital supplies and used clothing had been sent to All Saints Hospital at Aklayik, Treasurers, Mrs. F. A. Goodwin showed a bank balance of $4,425.13. Other reports were given by Mrs. A. A. Bates, Mrs. C. D. George, Miss M. Nicholson, Miss J. Leigh, Mrs. C. Millard, Mrs. G. N. Whipple, Mrs. A. H. Sheppard, Miss E. Gollmer and Mrs. F. R. Sadd, chairman of the Cowichan Denary.

Mrs. T. W. A. Gray gave a review of "The Bible and Evangelism." Opening prayers in the afternoon were taken by Mrs. R. S. C. Millard, Miss D. E. Mitchell introduced Dr. Roberts and the courtesy thanks to the ladies at St. John's was given by Mrs. Turton.

Traditional 'Something Old' Worn by Last Friday's Bride

chose a pennant belonging to her grandmother as "something old" to complement her gown, a net and lace over satin creation fashioned with lace bodice, pointed-lapel neckline and lily-point sleeves. Red roses and stephanotis tied with white satin bows formed her cascade bouquet.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gawn McCullough, 5341 Old West Road, Royal Oak, was given in marriage by her father, Rev. E. J. Staley performed the ceremony in Wilkinson Road United Church. Organist was D. Boone.

Bridesmaid, Miss Jeannette Wakelyn, sister of the groom, wore a floor-length gown—in periwinkle blue fashioned with fitted strapless bodice topped with tiny bolero. Her bouquet was of pale pink carnations in cascade.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wakelyn, 933 Collinson Street, had David Harrison as best man, and Ronald McCullough, brother of the bride, and Douglas Wakelyn, brother of the groom, as ushers.

Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall was decorated with spring flowers for the reception which followed. C. A. Miller, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip to Island, the bride wore a green linen garter coat over a white linen sheath. Her jewelry was of a matching green and she wore white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

When they return, Mr. and Mrs. Wakelyn will live at 812 Short Street.

RUSHING THE SEASON

It's sounds funny—but it's true!

Twenty-two Christmas stockings donated by the Council of Evening Branches in Victoria have been shipped to Akilavik as gifts for the hospital staff come Christmas Day next December.

This was announced at meeting of the diocesan board of the women's auxiliary of the Anglican Church in Canada at a meeting at St. John's, Colwood.

Heavy freight, all sent in by boat because of the high freight rate by air, must be at Waterways in early summer in order to get down the river to Akilavik while the ice is melted.

A year's supply of groceries for this far-north settlement at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, also goes in by boat in summer.

Yvonne Marion Aiers Wed Recently in Quebec City

Of interest to friends and relatives in Victoria is the wedding of Miss Yvonne Marion Aiers, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas A. Aiers, formerly of Shanghai, China, now of Sidney, B.C., and Owen Ross Wiggs, son of Col and Mrs. Charles William Wiggs, Quebec City. The afternoon ceremony took place in the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity, Quebec City, with Dean Robert L. Seaborn officiating.

The bride entered the cathedral on the arm of her father

Urwin and Mrs. E. Falconer. Tea arrangements were in charge of Mrs. D. Wood, Mrs. May May Burgess and Mrs. D. Kissinger.

Presentation of a plant to Mrs. C. E. Ball, mother of unit president, Mrs. E. Ball, was made by Mrs. Bennett.

Couple Married Recently In Chapel at HMCS Naden

In a quiet ceremony in HMCS Naden chapel, Padre Todd united in marriage Miss Sheila Yvonne Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Orise, Edgeware Road, and Gerald Benjamin Newham, HMCS Brockville, son of Mrs. Newham, North Battleford, Sask. White lilac, mauve stocks and blue and yellow iris were placed on the altar, and white lilac, blue iris and pink rosebuds on the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a fuchsia and white printed nylon afternoon dress with softly draped bodice and flowing skirt. She completed her ensemble with a small white flowered hat and white accessories.

Her spray bouquet was of gardenias, white hebe feathered carnations and lily of the valley. Only attendant was Miss Heather Griffiths, who wore a blue and mauve printed silk dress with gloves and hat, en tone. Her spray bouquet was of gardenias and pink feathered carnations.

The groom asked Frank Latube to be best man and Kenneth White to be usher.

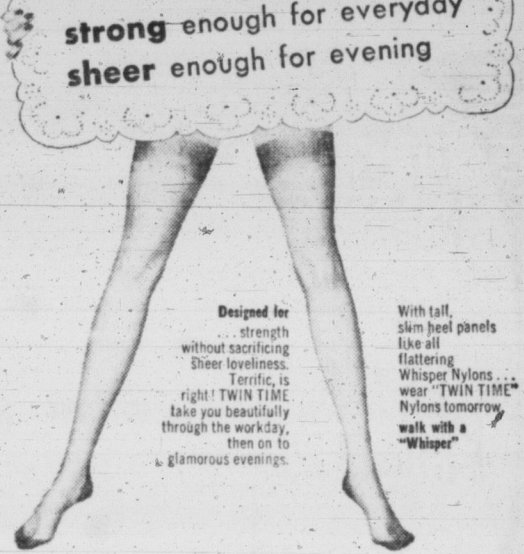

The newlyweds' future home at 1249 Rockland Avenue was the

Colorful Flowers At Bursary Tea

Colorful late spring flowers set the motif recently for the Women's Canadian Club bursary tea held at the Gillespie Place home of the president, Mrs. Gordon Wismer.

Attractive arrangements of lilac and tulips in the entrance hall; calla lilies, gladioli and tulips in the drawing room and white snapdragons, stocks and yellow daffodils centring the tea tables, were much admired by the many guests who attended.

Presiding at the tea tables were Dr. Margaret Newton, Mrs. E. S. Farr, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah, Mrs. A. Campbell, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. S. J. Willis and Mme. Lugrin Fahey. Members of the executive board of the club acted as serveurs.

Proceeds will be used for the club bursaries of $150 each, which are presented annually to an outstanding boy and girl in the Greater Victoria school district entering college or university.

50 Houses Flooded At Grand Forks

(From The Canadian Press)

NELSON—Flood water hit about 50 homes in the Grand Forks area as the Columbia River crest passed and damage was expected to reach thousands of dollars.

The Granby and Kettle Rivers subsided at Grand Forks Tuesday after moving within five inches of the level of the 1948 flood year. Some families were evacuated when basements of their homes flooded and the water reached the first floor.

Logs that backed up at the CPR bridges were dynamited to loose the backlog of water built up behind them.

Dynamite and tractors also cleared a jam around a new bridge across the Duncan River at Argenta, where the span opened Friday has already been damaged. Loss of the span would be a double blow for the people of the area, since they supplied piling for the structure and had been depending on it as a route to use to fill a pole contract.

Road washouts east of here cut Trans-Canada Highway connections with the Kootenay Lake ferry, but the ferry continued to operate.

Some roads were temporarily blocked in the West Kootenay region as a number of creeks went over their banks. The southern trans-provincial highway was under water in several places and water flooded a restaurant, homes and a summer camp at Six Mile.

SALK SHOTS START

VANCOUVER — First of 16,000 junior high school students received Salk polio vaccinations Tuesday.

City health officer Dr. Stewart Murray said the entire 16,000 will receive shots by the end of the week.

Other school children here, some 63,000, will receive vaccinations when and if the vaccine is available.

LANDMARK BURNS

CRESTON — One of the landmarks of the Creston area, Redmile's store at nearby Kitchener, was destroyed by fire Tuesday.

PHONE CHARGES UP

TRAIL — Higher telephone rates will go into effect in the Trail area after May 30 when an automatic dial phone service will be cut in at Rossland. The boost will be about 30 cents a month.

NEW JUDGE SWORN

VERNON — Charles W. Morrow, Tuesday took his oath of office as judge of the county court bench of the Cariboo before Mr. Justice A. M. Manson. Mr. Morrow, who has practiced law in Vernon for more than 30 years, will take up residence in Prince George.

PROBE REFUSED

TRAIL — City council will take no action on a recommendation from the Trail senior hockey club that "an immediate investigation be conducted on the operation of the memorial centre."

The club said in a letter that as a major financial contributor to the centre, it regarded the current deficit budget of the parks board "with grave concern."

RESORT PLANNED

NAKUSP — The chamber of commerce is supporting a plan to transform Nakusp's Hot Springs into a resort comparable to Banff or Radium.

Mrs. C. S. Leary has offered to relinquish an undetermined portion of her 48-acre mineral claim on which the springs are located.

HOSPITAL GOING BEHIND

PENTICTON — Expenses of the Penticton hospital in the first four months of the year were $4,700 greater than in the corresponding period of 1955, the hospital board heard at its May meeting.

The board heard a report that the operating loss before adjustments was $237, but since patient days exceeded the 1955 approved estimate by 960, the deficit rose to a total of $10,269.

LEGION HEAD QUILTS

PRINCE GEORGE — Resignation of L. E. Blundell, president of Canadian Legion Branch No. 43, has been accepted at a stormy general meeting.

The meeting tabled for one month separate motions of non-confidence and confidence in the officers and executive of the branch following their recommendation for dismissal of secretary-manager W. E. Attwood.

NEW WARDEN of Saskatchewan Penitentiary, Prince Albert, is T. W. Hall, formerly of Victoria. He was deputy warden at B.C. Penitentiary, New Westminster, when given his new appointment. A former major in the Canadian army, Mr. Hall began penal work as a guard in New Westminster in 1933, and was three times a marksman on the Canadian Bisley team, the last time in 1951. Mr. Hall attended Victoria High School here and is the son of Mrs. T. Hall, 139 Rendall, and the late Sgt. Thomas Hall of the Victoria police department.

Secret Service Shuffle Hinted In Frogman Case

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Express says three junior British intelligence service officers concerned in the disappearance of frogman Lt. Cmdr. Lionel Crab have been transferred to other government departments.

Naval veteran Crab vanished while diving in Portsmouth harbor near the Russian cruiser which brought Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev to Britain for a state visit in April. The admiralty announced that presumably Crab lost his life. Russians made charges that he was spying on their ships.

Red Lines For Roads Opposed

Oak Bay council does not approve a suggestion by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce that road centre lines now painted white should be changed to red.

The chamber said the city has agreed to this action, on appropriate streets. The red line is part of a scheme to give easy direction to tourists to local beauty spots. All one needs do is follow a colored line.

Municipal engineer A. S. G. Musgrave said Tuesday he has prepared an alternate suggestion which will be submitted to the chamber, which calls for red arrows painted beside the white line. Council felt the white line is useful to drivers and a red line would not be discernable in fog.

Old Flagship Infested

PORTSMOUTH, England (Reuters)—HMS Victory, once Nelson's flagship, is infested with beetles. Workmen entered it Tuesday to begin a fumigation process to slow the ravages caused by the gnawing of her timbers by countless death-watch beetles.

New Vice-Principal For Victoria High

Victoria High School social studies teacher, G. Victor Thomson, was appointed Tuesday vice-principal of the school, effective July 1.

He will replace Robert F. Heywood, who leaves at that time to accept a professorship in commerce at University of B.C.

A school board meeting accepted resignations of 19 teachers and approved appointments of 20. Four of the retiring teachers boast a record of 118 years' total service.

They include Miss Henrietta Bradshaw, Quadra, 27 years; John S. Dee, vice-principal, Victoria West, 35 years; Miss Ella Cameron, 29 years, Victoria High, and Dr. J. M. Thomas, 17 years, principal Mount View High.

The board will increase the number of Greater Victoria primaries from five to nine in September. New classes will be opened in Doncaster, Oaklands, Glenford and Willows schools.

LEAVE WANTED

A delegation from Greater Victoria Teachers' Association

Mrs. J. Haegert PTA Chief for Central Junior

Mrs. J. Haegert heads the list of executive members elected at the annual meeting of Central Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, replacing retiring president Ford McBratney.

Honorary president is William McMichael, school principal; vice-president Mrs. E. S. Walker, treasurer Mrs. D. Smith.

A $200 donation was voted for the purchase of school library books and $100 for supplementary equipment in the music department. None of the material purchased in this way is standard school equipment.

Committee heads elected were Mrs. D. S. Roberts, membership; Mesdames L. Longdon, Emerson Smith, A. G. Voyer, E. S. Walker, hospitality; Mrs. J. McCammon, program; Mrs. J. W. Sulsbury, radio; Mesdames F. B. Turner, W. Grafton, H. Sargent, W. G. Eekman, A. Philips, social.

PTA council representatives will be Mrs. Haegert, Mrs. Grafton, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Smith.

G. VICTOR THOMSON

asked leave of absence be granted teachers who are elected as MLAs. The board felt the teachers' brief should be presented to the department of education. Policy at present is to discharge teachers for the term of elected office.

Boundary changes for Bank Street and Gordon Head schools will be effective in September due to higher enrolments and closure of Oak Bay elementary.

New boundaries at Bank Street are Fort, Oak Bay, Brighton, Richmond and Foul Bay. Gordon Head pupils will now come from homes enclosed by Mount Douglas Park, the waterfront, Gordon Head Road, Feltham, Torquay, Mount Douglas Crossroad and Glendenning.

OAK BAY PONDER'S RAW MILK

Oak Bay medical health officer Dr. Neil R. Stewart has told council he is not in favor of raw milk being sold in that municipality, but was aware many people object to pasteurized milk.

Without recommending any course of action by by-law, the doctor said he felt the decision should be reached by council's health board.

Unless sale of raw milk is approved by council before July 1, by recent government legislation, such sale will be illegal after that date.

INCIDENT AT BRENTWOOD

Doe Swims Inlet For Holiday Visit

By DICK FREEMAN
Times Brentwood Correspondent

BRENTWOOD — A venture some young doe, panting and almost exhausted from a long swim across the upper reaches of Saanich Inlet—aroused interest and not a little excitement among Beach Drive residents over the holiday weekend.

Those who witnessed the animal swimming offshore expressed the opinion that it must have come from the densely wooded Highland district half a mile or so across the bay.

It is not unusual for deer to be seen in the less-populated district of Brentwood, and at times motorists have had to be on the alert after dusk to avoid running down a stray on the highways, but residents who saw this particular doe believe it is the first time, at least within their recollection, that one has braved the crossing of the inlet to make their acquaintance.

Dripping with salt water, the frightened doe scrambled ashore at mid-day Sunday and after shaking itself dog-fashion, first took refuge in the creek bed where it enters the sea at the bend of Merchants Road.

After sheltering in the deep ravine to get its wind, the doe gained the roadway and raced up and down runways leading to homes on Beach Drive.

Finally, harassed by dogs of the neighborhood, the deer, thoroughly scared by this time,

BEAVER DAM CAUSES 21-CAR DERAILMENT

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway said today a beaver dam which broke Tuesday night and washed out the west section of its mainline caused the derailment of a freight engine and 21 cars at Carleton Place, 89 miles west of Fort William.

No one was injured in the accident and work crews from Ignace, Ont., and Fort William were working to clear the line. The east mainline was expected to be cleared today. West-bound trains were rerouted.

bounded off in the general direction of the Mount Newton woods.

Wade, Wells Machines Purchased by B.C.?

In a telegram to Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan Tuesday night, Liberal leader Arthur Laing suggested the government is proposing to buy road-building equipment owned by the contracting firm of Wade and Wells on the Stewart-Cassiar road.

The telegram added: "If this is so, advise who made the valuation, what is the total of valuation, and tell me what sum was paid by the government to move this machinery to its present site under cost-plus-contract."

Mr. Kiernan declined comment on the telegram "at this stage."

The firm of Wade and Wells and the government came under criticism at the last legislative session following opposition charges that construction of the mining access road had been marked by political patronage, waste of public money and laxity in construction supervision.

It was alleged that the former minister of mines, R. E. Sommers, had been a friend of the contractors for more than 15 years.

A legislative committee which investigated the charges failed to agree on a report.

OLYMPIC REP

TORONTO (CP)—A Montreal fencer, Roland Asselin, has qualified to become Canada's representative in fencing at the Olympic Games. The games will be held at Melbourne, Australia in November.

Engineers have found that today's high-horsepower, high-compression engines are especially sensitive to certain deposits.

Within only a few thousand miles, deposits form which cause spark plugs to "miss". When this happens, power falls off. Performance generally gets lousy. Obviously, what's needed is a way to stop spark plug "miss".

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*, the greatest gasoline development in 31 years, neutralizes engine deposits. TCP additive restores power to your car that pre-firing and spark plug "miss" take away.

Switch to Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP—the power's all yours! See your neighbourhood Shell Dealer.

DICK HAYMES HAS MORE TROUBLES

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Haymes is still having his troubles. This time, he is unable to get permission from Actors Equity to appear in a Miami Beach, Fla., production of The Tender Trap scheduled to open June 2.

Alfred Harding, spokesman for the Union of Performing Artists, said Haymes and his Florida producer applied before Equity's governing council two weeks ago both to play in the show and to rejoin the union. Haymes lost equity membership in 1953 for having falsely listed Santa Barbara, Calif., as his birthplace. He was born in Argentina.

TO RUSSIA—Metropolitan opera tenor Jan Peerce will leave June 3 for a one-month concert tour in Russia, it was announced Tuesday. Aides said Peerce will make the tour under state department auspices.

FONTANA DEFEATED—BIRMINGHAM, England (AP)—Canadian Davis Cupper Don Fontana of Toronto bowed out of the priority lawn tennis tournament singles division Tuesday when he lost to John Barrett of Britain 2-6, 6-3, 9-7 in the semifinals.

Two FOR THE Show

By PHIL LEE
A—Don't Miss
B—For a Rainy Afternoon
C—To Put in Time

(A) "FORBIDDEN PLANET" (Dominion)—MGM's "Forbidden Planet" speaks of a world only 245 years away—a little more than the lives of three men distant—and it couldn't appear more real than if you walked into that neat-looking 186-storey rocket depot in Beacon Hill Park and heard the station announcer's chant: "Space trains leaving for Moon, Saturn, Jupiter and Mars on Rocket Towers 4, 5 and 6. Space trains leaving for Venus, Neptune and Uranus now loading up on Towers 11, 12 and 13."

In "Forbidden Planet," however, Earth's space ship is bound for remote planet "Altair 4," in search of a group of scientists who landed there 20 years before. Much to the crew's chagrin they are warned off by Altair's boss Walter Pidgeon, one of the missing scientists. Nonetheless, the space ship's CO resolutely lands his space-consuming saucer.

THERE, BATHED IN WEIRD tones of green emanating from Altair's macabre sky, the Earthmen discover a planet devoid of human life and ray guns at the ready, await their fate. Soon, a puff of dust streaking across the wastes heralds the approach of Robby the Robot, a neat mechanical man who can manufacture everything from rye to rhinestones by merely inserting samples down his little rusty lane.

Robby, after assuring the Earthmen in carefully cultured tones that he can speak any of 187 languages and dialogues, carries them on his truck to meet Altair's uncrowned king Pidgeon who lives in a house that is a cross between a fun house and a house of horrors. Pidgeon explains that one by one all his scientific colleagues, including his wife, had been killed off by the "thing." Only he and his daughter (Anne Francis) were left. He urges them, for their own safety, to return to earth.

DETERMINED TO DISCOVER the exact reason for the deaths of Pidgeon's fellow scientists, suspicious Earthmen Leslie Nielsen and Warren Stevens stick to their space guns and carry out their investigations. Not least enjoyable of these is teaching Pidgeon's daughter that Earth boys will be Earth boys until they are blue.

Although the story of "Forbidden Planet" sometimes struggles, the mechanics are exciting and tremendously imaginative. And when the id starts roaming—that creature of our imagination—it becomes as nightmarish as a small boy's dream after his first roller coaster ride.

Not since last year's "This Island Earth" has Hollywood come up with such a believable spot of unbelievable-ity.

Translation Service Urged for Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—The Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada, embracing almost 25,000 members across Canada, Tuesday asked Commons Speaker Rene Beaudin to install a simultaneous translation system in the House.

The chamber made its request in a brief presented to Mr. Beaudin by a delegation headed by Ross Smyth of Montreal, national Jaycee president. It estimated cost of such an installation of $6,272.93.

ERIC EDWARDS

Eric Edwards Heads Music Teachers

Eric Edwards was re-elected president and Miss Mary Anderson was named vice-president of the Victoria branch, Registered Music Teachers' Association at its recent annual meeting.

Mr. Edwards was returned by acclamation, as were Mrs. Olive Stuart, secretary; Mrs. E. M. Hottzman, recording secretary; and Miss Elsie Le Gresley, treasurer.

Executive members are Mrs. H. T. Lasenby, Mrs. A. C. Mitchell, Miss Christie Leask and T. Krieger.

Plans for the provincial convention to be held in Victoria July 3 and 6 were discussed.

Both pleaded guilty.

IMPOSSIBLE TO LIVE WITHOUT IT

Woman's Best Friend? 'Love,' Says Magnani

ROME (AP)—Give or take an eruption or two, Italy's most famous volcanoes are Vesuvius, Stromboli and Anna Magnani.

Miss Magnani, whose earthy Serafina in The Rose Tattoo won the 1956 academy award for the best film actress of the year, is an explosive opposite of the glamorous movie type.

She is a bulging matron of 46 who just can't keep her lank black hair combed. Her clothes normally look as if the doorman rang before she was quite dressed.

Foreigners who do not patronize the art theatres have come to know Magnani only recently. But she hit the screen first in 1934.

Her family was poor. She came from the Trastevere section of Rome—literally "across the Tiber," but in fact rather like being from the wrong side of the tracks.

Her fiery talent won her a scholarship to Rome's St. Cecilia Dramatic Academy. After that came roles with touring companies—years of low pay, shabby accommodations and experience.

Then came love—and Magnani freely admits she has been without it only rarely since.

"Love is a woman's best friend," she says. "I'm always in love. It is impossible to live without love and unpleasant to die without it."

Ink and Salt Thrown Around In School Raid

City police today are investigating vandalism at South Park Elementary School over the holiday weekend.

School principal W. J. Orchard told police Tuesday afternoon some one had broken into the school since last Friday and stolen $1 in silver change and keys from a janitor's room.

He said lipstick was rubbed into desks, ink was spilled on desks, salt and sugar was spilled on a floor in a teachers' room and water was thrown on the floor.

Two windows in the school were broken.

HOME DAMAGED
In a second weekend incident, three teen-age boys, one 14 years of age, one 13 and the other 12, were apprehended after police found an empty home at 482 Dallas Road damaged.

Telephone wires were pulled off a wall, bottles were broken on a floor, 48 windows were broken, paper and dirt was scattered about the house.

Parents of the boys have agreed to pay damages, police said.

The house is owned by D. M. Flett, 115 Devereaux.

Gerald Francis Kieran, 1342 Pandora, and Lorne Earl Harkin, 2646 Peatt Road, Langford, fined $25 each when they appeared in city police court Tuesday on separate charges of driving without driver's licences.

Both pleaded guilty.

O'Brien Painting Given to Archives

A water-color impression of Howe Sound, painted in 1888 by Lucius Richard O'Brien, has been presented to the B.C. Provincial Archives by Arthur G. Penny of Quebec City.

It depicts three Indians idling in their canoe close to the shore.

O'Brien was born in Ontario in 1832 and in 1880 became the first president of the Royal Canadian Academy of Art, which office he held for 10 years.

"He was particularly interested in the scenery of the Rocky Mountains and the Selkirk Range," Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, said.

"He was commissioned to paint Canadian scenes by the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise while they were in residence at Rideau Hall, Ottawa."

"This is the first painting by this prominent Canadian artist to be added to our collection."

South Africa Ready to Fight In Middle East

CAPETOWN (Reuters)—Defence Minister Frans Erasmus said Tuesday South Africa would have no alternative but to fight if war broke out in North Africa or the Middle East. It would be suicide to wait for a direct attack on South Africa, he told the Lower House of Parliament. South Africa regarded any attack on North Africa or the Middle East as virtually an attack on itself.

Church Camp Readied At Nanoose

Two hundred members from 12 Pentecostal churches from all parts of Vancouver Island met at Nanoose Bay this week to help prepare their camp grounds for the summer season.

Ray Whellams, chairman of the camp committee, said a children's playground, four new cabins, a modern wash-room-shower-laundry unit and landscaping are this year's project.

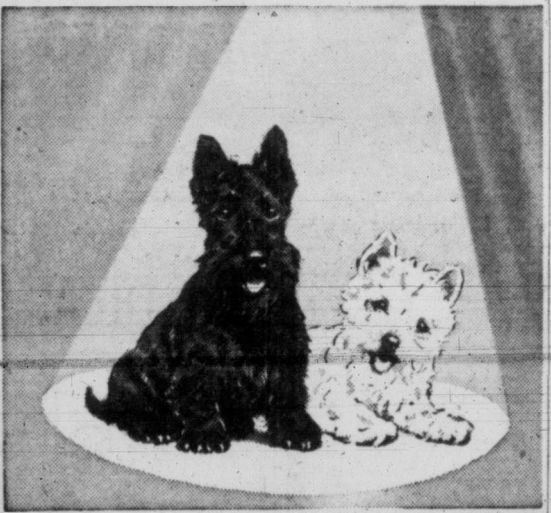

"This year 5,000 advertising folders were mailed to 350 churches in British Columbia and Washington State," he said. "The season promises to be the most successful since the camp opened five years ago."

The Black Ball Ferry and Vancouver Island Ferry are now operating in granting special return fares.

The camp schedule is as follows: Girls, age 9 to 13, July 2-7; boys, age 9 to 13, July 8-14; youth camp, July 15-22; general camp for family, July 22 to Aug. 5.

CITY MAN'S ANIMAL TRAP HIGHLY PRAISED

A new trap for fur-bearing animals, invented by a Victoria carpenter, was highly acclaimed at the annual convention of the Northern zone of the B.C. Trappers' Association at Prince George Tuesday.

The trap was invented by Frank Conibear, 1392 Rockland, a former trapper, and described by Eric Collier, association president, as "the greatest new device to come to the fur industry in years."

The new device is said to be more humane than any present method of trapping. Mr. Collier said, it was made of high tension wire, is completely collapsible, and is easy to set and carry.

Illegal Plumbing in Saanich To Be Probed by Councillors

Saanich council Tuesday ordered a fully inquiry into illegal plumbing installations in a Gordon Head subdivision formerly owned by councillor H. K. (Pat) Bate.

The plumbing inspector will be called before a council committee to explain why plumbing installations were approved in the San Ardo subdivision.

H. D. Watt, sanitary inspector, in a report to council, said a health hazard existed in the Gordon Head district because homes in the San Ardo subdivision are running their water into open ditch.

He also reported there was evidence that septic tank effluent is running into the ditch.

WON'T PAY

The inquiry was ordered after San Ardo residents said they were not going to pay for materials to bring the plumbing up to standard because the installations had been approved by the municipality.

The sanitary inspector's report caused heated debate in the council.

Said Coun. T. J. O'Neill: did not conform to the by-laws. "Municipal officials should be held responsible for their actions. Why should taxpayers have to foot the bill for things like this?"

Coun. George Austin suggested that council wait and hear what the plumbing inspector had to say. "For all we know someone may have held a gun at his head and he might have been forced to approve it," he stated.

Reeve Arthur Ash charged former municipal councils with laxity in maintaining the municipality's by-laws. He said there were installations in other subdivisions which also help in the orderly development of the municipality," he said. "This is what we need if we are to curb the rising mill rate."

Are you kept awake cough, cough, coughing, wheezing and gasping for breath. Then here is good news. Mr. P. Poulton, 57 Marlborough Ave., Toronto writes: "For many years I suffered terribly from chronic bronchitis—prolonged bouts of coughing and wheezing at night. Sometimes my sides were so sore from the exertion that I felt as if I'd been beaten. It was a wonderful day when I tried Templeton's RAZ-MAH. I was able to sleep peacefully instead of sitting up for hours gasping and coughing. And no more soreness in my sides—thanks to RAZ-MAH! What Is a Cyclone?

Cyclone is coined from a Greek word for circle. A cyclone is a storm in which the winds blow toward the center in a round, spiral motion. Such storms occur in various sizes. The largest ones blow in latitudes far north and south of the tropics. The cyclone winds south of the equator spiral in the same direction as the hands on the face of a clock. North of the equator they blow in the opposite, or counterclockwise, direction.

Usually, the bigger the cyclone, the less fuss it makes. And some of them are really big. During the winter they blow across America from the Aleutians and western Canada. They tend to follow each other in set paths from the Pacific to the Atlantic. Some are 2,000 miles wide. Such a cyclone can travel clear around the globe.

When the weatherman mentions an area of low pressure he often means a big cyclone. If he says the low is moving in our direction, we are in its path. If the south or eastern section strikes us, winds are likely to come from the south. Weather may be warm. The northwest section tends to bring east-erly winds and colder weather. The whole storm ambles along between 20 and 30 miles an hour. It is likely to bring clouds and rain.

These monster cyclones play a star role in our weather news. Often they are followed by anti-cyclones. These are areas of high-pressure. The winds spiral outward in the opposite direction from cyclone winds. Anti-cyclones tend to bring cloudless skies and calm spells.

The howling hurricane is a smaller type of cyclone. It is called a tropical cyclone because it is hatched over tropical seas. Unlike the big cyclone, it tends to move towards the west. A hurricane is no more than a few hundred miles wide, but what it lacks in size it makes up for in fury.

Like the big cyclone, the heart of the hurricane is a low-pressure area. This is the warm, rising air that produces the calm eye in the center of the raging storm. Also, like the big cyclone, the spiral winds move clockwise south of the equator and counterclockwise north of the equator. However, they rush in with far more fury and force.

The smallest cyclone is the fiercest of all storms. It is the tornado, or twister, that rips across our southwest. The central area of low-pressure in a twister is almost a vacuum. It dips in a funnel shape from a cloud to the ground. The almost-vacuum draws in dust and debris and becomes a dark fun-

FISHERY CHIEF SINCLAIR SEES VICTORY

'Fight Fire With Fire' Tactics Puts U.S. on Pink Salmon Spot

OTTAWA (CP) — Fisheries Minister Sinclair believes he finally has the United States in a position where it must agree to a catch-sharing and conservation treaty on pink salmon.

His tactics, he disclosed in an interview Tuesday, involved importing of big deep-sea seiners and whipping up of Canadian west coast fishermen to go all-out in building up the Canadian percentage of the annual catch.

For years, he said, Canada tried to get the U.S. to sign a pact of pink salmon, similar to the one on sockeye under which the two countries share the catch and conservation costs. But the Americans refused.

On pink salmon, a species steadily growing in value, the Americans were getting 70 per cent of the catch and Canadians only 30 per cent.

GOT THERE FIRST
The heavy run on pink salmon is every second year. The salmon run along the west coast, swing down through the south of Vancouver Island and enter the Fraser River by way of the Puget Sound.

The American fishermen were getting at the salmon before they got into the Fraser. Several years ago Mr. Sinclair got the cabinet to agree to limit ports of the big seiners. At his urging, Canadian fishermen go 20 or 30 miles offshore on the Pacific for deep-sea salmon fishing.

Last year the Canadian percentage of the total catch rose to 46 per cent from 30. The Americans were still getting a lot of the fish, said Mr. Sinclair, because they would fish seven days a week while Canadians fished only five. Canadians also declared a four-week closure period when the fish were left alone at the height of the season so that a lot could get through for spawning. The Americans declared a closure of only a weekend.

CALL FOR TREATY
Mr. Sinclair told Canadian fishermen that next year all restrictions would be lifted, providing they would fish seven days a week and grab as much of the catch as possible.

Apparently that changed the American attitude, Mr. Sinclair said. Washington State has called for treaty negotiations.

Humane Body Awards For Four
ZEBALLOS—Royal Canadian Humane Society testimonials have been awarded to Robert McFarlane, Rene Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. Albin Michael for "heroic action" in connection with the drowning of Gunnar Markvardson, April 12, 1935.

The tragedy occurred when a skiff in which McFarlane, Stanton and Markvardson were riding capsized near Nuchatlitz Indian reservation.

Markvardson kept losing his hold on the overturned skiff, and was held up by his companions. Finally, after two hours in the water, they lost their grip on Markvardson and he disappeared.

They stayed with the skiff, but were near exhaustion when Mr. and Mrs. Michael sailed their fishing boat among dangerous rocks to rescue the two men.

PENSIONER'S $3,300 SAVED

ERRING MOTORIST'S HONESTY-REWARDED WITH MERE WARNING

Honesty of an Oak Bay motorist was rewarded Tuesday night.
A person giving the name of John Gilstrap, 1598 Wilmot, phoned police stating that an hour previously he had made a left turn at Yates and Douglas when he "wasn't thinking."

He said he was reporting the violation so police could send him a summons.

Police cautioned the man regarding the infraction, and thanked him for calling.

Esquimalt Will Ban Trailer, Bus Homes

Esquimalt will seek legal advice to determine whether the use of house trailers and converted buses in the municipality can be outlawed.
A letter from municipal engineer John Graeme asked council to set a policy on the use and storage of house trailers in Esquimalt. He was particularly concerned about parking of such vehicles on streets.

Coun. G. K. Sammon remarked a converted bus stored on property next to his "shouldn't be allowed" either, and councillors included buses in their resolution.

Both health and building codes prohibit such accommodation, but the engineer said they seem to provide the municipality with no power to move the vehicles.

The solicitor also will be asked to rule on whether the municipality has any authority to force residents to help fight tent caterpillars on private property.

Reeve A. C. Wurtels appealed to residents to help remove and control the pest in Esquimalt.

PLANT GROWTH EXPERIMENTS

Aussies Establish Nurseries in Desert

By TERENCE DOWNEY

WOOMERA, Australia (Reuters)—As supersonic missiles howl into the sky at this joint British-Australian rocket range, a group of men tend plants which may one day transform great areas of Australian desert and treeless land in other countries.

These men are experimenting with plant growth in the semi-desert country 300 miles northwest of Adelaide where this range is situated. Their garden, about a quarter mile from the village which houses the scientists, is called the arboretum.

In the arboretum, amid the red soil and grey-green saltbush of the range country, is one of the greenest and smoothest lawns any one could wish to see. It is formed by South African couch, grown specially at Woomera to test its suitability in this area.

Woomera is at the centre of a stone-covered tableland 60 miles in diameter. Most Australians call it desert, but the nearby Mount Eba sheep station shears about 30,000 of some of the choicest merino sheep in Australia each year.

Scattered at one to every 20 acres, they browse among the sparse, tufted saltbush which subsists in the reddish clay and loam soil, watered by an annual rainfall of some four to five inches.

A full-time arboriculturist was appointed to produce trees and grasses suitable to the Woomera area. Nurseries were established and contact made with authorities in most of the dry areas of the world, including the Sudan, South Africa and Arizona.

A tree-planting campaign in Woomera village led to the planting of more than 34,000. The main species is eucalyptus, the Australian native which already has found its way to America, Africa and Mediterranean countries, acacias and poplars.

The Woomera nursery supervisor, E. F. Martin, is watching the progress of what he called the Israel bush, a greyish plant from the Holy Land. The Israel bush, thriving here, is believed to have a higher nutritional value for sheep than the local saltbush.

Locally produced sheep yield some of the finest merino fleeces. Scientists believe this is because Woomera soil lacks no important trace elements.

Stormy Scenes As French Spies Sent to Prison

PARIS (AP)—

In a stormy climax to a 2½-month trial, a French military tribunal Sunday sentenced two former high-ranking civil servants to long prison terms for leaking defence secrets to the Communists during the Indochina war.

Books and an empty water glass flew through the air, and fist fights flared.

Roger Labrousse, former head of France's civil defence, got six years and Jean-René Turpin, former member of the national defence ministry secretariat-general, four years. It was far beyond the demands of the prosecution, which had asked sentences not exceeding 20 months—the time Labrousse and Turpin have already spent in jail.

The tribunal acquitted Jean Mons, former secretary general of the defence ministry, and Andre Baranes, a newspaper man who once worked for the pro-Communist paper Liberation.

The verdict itself came after a marathon session of 21 hours. When it was announced, Labrousse grabbed an empty glass and hurled it at Baranes. Labrousse's 17-year-old son threw a book at Baranes' lawyer, Jean Louis Tixier-Vignancour, a rightist deputy. The lawyer flung two books which missed Labrousse's son but hit a reporter.

After the courtroom was emptied by the presiding judge, a fist fight broke out between Tixier-Vignancour and Georges Arnault, a leftist author. There were fist fights also among spectators.

Commissioner To Conduct All-Star Poll

NEW YORK (AP)—

Baseball commissioner Ford Frick announced Monday his office will conduct this year's all-star game poll in co-operation with Canadian and American newspapers, radio stations and television stations.

Already approximately 500 newspapers and stations have indicated willingness to conduct local polls and forward the results to Frick's office.

"The response was magnificent," said Frick. "This is still the fans' game."

In recent years the Chicago Tribune has served as the central counting bureau for the poll. The Tribune withdrew this spring.

Frick said the voting opens Monday at 12 noon at the local level at midnight, Friday, June 22. Final tabulations must be in his office by midnight June 26. Results would be announced shortly thereafter.

The game will be played July 10 in Washington. The fans will select the starting teams for leagues except for pitchers, who will be chosen by the managers along with the balance of the two squads.

Saanich To Cancel Machine Shop Licence

Saanich Council Tuesday decided to notify G. A. Vantreight that his trades licence for the operation of Mills Machine Shop on Tyndall Avenue will be cancelled with 48 hours.

Vic High Student Wins City Rodeo

Victoria High School student David Wright, 1180 May, scored top rating in Junior Chamber of Commerce first annual rodeo for teenagers held Saturday in B.C. Electric Garbally road yard.

For being best driver in a field of 26 competitors, winning 412 out of 500 points, Wright won a food mixer and the right to represent the city in provincial trials in Vancouver June 9.

Runners-up in aggregate points were Bob Smith, 3030 Beach, 399, and Larry Elgood, 1253 Simon, 395. Carl Westinghouse, 17, sole girl entrant, placed among the first 13 entrants.

A Victoria High School student, Wright has been driving two years. If he wins at Vancouver he will represent B.C. July 20 in Qitawa.

A written examination and several driving tests comprised the basis of judging. Contestants were required to drive a straight line, a serpentine line, stop smoothly and park parallel, among other tests.

Scores for the written examination were: Phil Potts, 1531 Bay, 92; Wright, 90; Smith and Elgood, 88 each. For the road tests, Robert Merry, 125 Burnside west, 234; Wright, 232; Smith, 229.

Final Mozart Concert Set For Tonight at Vic High

Last of the Mozart Festival single highlight of any concert. Concerts planned by Victoria Symphony Orchestra under direction of Hans Gruber, will take place tonight at Victoria High School.

A beautifully balanced program has been prepared, each of the three numbers being outstanding enough to form a sible the piece de resistance.

With four leading west coast wind players—Stan McCartney, clarinet; Roland Dufrene, oboe; George Zukerman, bassoon; and Douglas Kent, horn; the orchestra will perform Sinfonia Concertante, one of Mozart's most fabulous works.

The concert begins at 9 p.m.

For all your banking...

Did you ever stop to consider all the things a chartered bank can do for you?

It is more than a convenient place to make a deposit, cash a cheque or see about a loan. You can also buy travellers cheques and money orders; rent a safety deposit box; purchase foreign currency; talk over your financial plans or problems. The list goes on and on... and all these services are available at the branch where you do your banking.

A branch bank is, in effect, a service centre and everyone on the staff is there to help you, to look after all your banking courteously, confidentially and well.

REFUSED LEGAL ABORTION

Woman Will Bear Child of Rapist

DENVER (UP)—The story of a Denver housewife, who will bear a rapist's child this month because she was denied a legal abortion, was told Monday.

In an article in Coronet magazine by Cal Bernstein of Denver, Mrs. Margie Anson pleads for clarification of the law to prevent such tragedies in the future.

According to the article, Mrs. Anson was attacked by an intruder in her home, Sept. 17, 1955. Her husband, Joe, was in a hospital recuperating from an operation and their two-year-old daughter, Anita, was visiting friends.

Mrs. Anson said that when she was called to police headquarters to identify a man who said she continued to search for a legal release from her difficulty until her doctor told her, after four months, that it was too late to perform such an operation safely.

"How could I ever learn to love a child who was conceived under such terrifying circumstances, whose father was a sex maniac?" Mrs. Anson asks. "I could never raise an illegitimate child in the same house with my husband and daughter."

The article did not indicate what solution Mrs. Anson has reached. She confessed raping her and two other women the district attorney told her that her doctor

Two Conventions Here Next Week

Two conventions of civic leaders will take place here next week. Reeves and other officials from all Island centres will gather at City Hall for Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities convention, Wednesday, May 30, under chairmanship of Reeve C. A. P. Murison of North Cowichan.

A civic luncheon will be held at Loughheed's Banquet Hall at 12.30 p.m. About 45 delegates will attend.

Municipal Officers' Association will convene at the Empress Hotel Monday and Tuesday. Speakers will include Mayor Percy Scourrah, Municipal Affairs Minister W. D. Black, his deputy, J. E. Brown, and several speakers from other B.C. points.

Union of B.C. Municipalities will meet at Penticton October 3, 4 and 5.

Building By-Laws Block Apartment

A proposed 18-suite modern apartment valued at $110,000 may be lost to Oak Bay because the builder wants to make the overall height four feet higher than is allowed in building by-laws.

"If we can't build it there, there are other places," said local apartment builder A. K. Smalley.

He appeared before council Monday night asking for the height concession, but council said its hands were tied and referred him to the zoning board of appeal.

Mr. Smalley says his proposed building will have a basement parking space for 18 cars and three additional storeys, served by an elevator. Overall height would be 31 feet whereas the by-law stipulates it should be a maximum of 30.

Council also will question the legality of Mr. Smalley's plans, which were drawn by an engineer rather than a registered architect. The delay involved could be fatal to Mr. Smalley's plans. It was pointed out that a proposed new Oak Bay zoning by-law calls for additional lot area than Mr. Smalley possesses for a building with such large floor area.

His plans agree in that respect with the current zoning requirements but if the new zoning law is passed before the building is constructed, it would be in violation. The site is 2587 Beach Drive.

A letter describing the frost-killed hedge around Windsor Park as a serious fire hazard was referred to the municipal engineer for report.

Victoria Inboard and Outboard Association will meet with council to discuss complaints that reckless operation of power boats is disrupting normal operation of repair work by boat enthusiasts at Oak Bay Boat House. The association pointed out that none of the offenders have been members.

18 Die as Bus Tumbles From Mountain Road

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — A bus carrying 42 Austrian tourists home from a trip to Venice tumbled from the road into a mountain stream south of the Brenner pass Tuesday night. Eighteen persons, including the driver, were killed and 29 others injured. Some victims were trapped in the wreckage and drowned.
